Hallowe'en Celebration On South Side Occurs Tonight

Mummers Will Parade Tonight On South Side

Expect Thousands To Take Part In Annual Long Avenue Carnival

MANY PRIZES TO BE GIVEN MUMMERS

Parade Will Move Out At 8 O'Clock—Pritchard Is Marshal

Once again the South Siders have shown their close affiliation with the Weather Man. A survey of the weather chart today shows tonight to be just what the doctor ordered for a Hallowe'en celebration. Clear and not too cold, no rain, no wind, nothing but just good weather, and the answer to this one is that the South Side will be jammed to the edges tonight with Mummers, and people who want to see the fun.

The Hallowe'en celebration is now an annual custom with the South Side citizenry. Each year has seen it get bigger and better and in order to provide for the usual increase in the number of prizes the prizes have been increased. Over 100 prizes of value have been contributed, and if you want to witness a real old-fashioned Hallowe'en parade (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Remember that corn shocks are dangerous as fire hazards to include in the Hallowe'en decorations.

City firemen will receive their bi-monthly pay on Monday. Pay day for the city's fire fighters falls on the third and 18th of each month and the monthly pay amounts to $6.40.

Tonight's the night. First Hallowe'en parade of mummers will take place on the south side. Friday night at 7 o'clock the uptown parade of mummers will occur. Spectators, stay on the sidewalks.

There is just one more day in which to have your auto officially inspected in this state. Unless your car carries a state inspection sticker on Saturday you are liable to arrest.

No smoking in the woods, and no fires is the dictum of the state for all hunters who go out in quest of small game with the opening of the hunting season on Saturday.

New Castle will get a little college atmosphere Saturday when Washington and Jefferson come to this city for their football game. Both teams will bring delegations of collegians with them and will make the visit interesting.

Sort of an odd thing to talk about but Pa New wonders why the court house clock can't be cleaned so it might be visible farther than it is. Now since we have one on the West Side, why not have the court house timepiece gone over? Perhaps the figures would stand out better.

Some people seem to be able to drive a car under almost any conditions. Watched a man driving down Mercer street this morning with a car full of poodle dogs. One was perched on the front seat beside him, one was in his lap, another was standing on his shoulders (Continued On Page Two)

McGuire, who has been flying this route of the air mail for the past three years left Cincinnati at 4 a. m. and was due in Indianapolis at 4:30. His ship had apparently developed motor trouble and in attempting to jump to safety, his parachute became fouled and failed to open. The ship crashed at the edge of the field in which McGuire's body was found. It did not burn and the mail was brought here after the crash was discovered.

McGuire is a native of Portal, North Dakota, and has been studying law at the University of Cincinnati in addition to his flying duties. He is single.

Towns Bordering Adriatic Coast Shaken By Quake

Report 24 Killed And 130 Injured As Earth Shocks Damage Coast Towns

(International News Service)

ROME, Oct. 30.—Twenty-four persons were reported to have been killed and 130 were injured today in the earthquake shocks which tumbled houses along the Italian Adriatic coast from Ancona to Ravenna.

Almost total paralysis of telegraph and telephone communication by the tremors rendered difficult the collection of reliable information on the number of casualties or the amount of property damage done.

On the basis of the meager dispatches reaching Rome up to 2 p. m. today, however, it appeared that the town of Sinigaglia suffered the most damage. Twenty persons were reported dead there, and the number of injured was large.

Fifty persons were reported injured at Ancona.

On instructions from the central government, troops have taken over control of the stricken areas, and have already begun relief measures. The list of casualties grew steadily as reports from outlying districts came in.

Eight persons were reported injured in the village of Pesaro, and twenty-two injured at Mondolfo.

It is believed that many others may have been hurt in the remote villages of the province of Ancona.

Va., is to be the speaker at both the morning and evening service and a treat is in store for those who will hear him as Dr. Goodnight is considered one of the best public speakers in the state of West Virginia, and is noted as a leading educator and there is no one more familiar than he is with the history and positions of the Disciples of Christ.

Girl Is Killed Under Wheel Of Car In Quarry

Cvetka Percic, 11, Meets Death While Coasting On Car At Midland Quarry

ON WAY HOME FROM MT. JACKSON SCHOOL

Was With Party Of Children Who Stopped To Play After Getting Off Bus

While playing around some empty limestone cars in the old Midland quarry near Bessemer Wednesday evening, Cvetka Percic, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Percic, fell beneath the wheels of a car and was so badly crushed that she died in a few minutes.

Cvetka Percic attended the Mt. Jackson consolidated school, going back and forth in the school bus. On Wednesday evening she got off the bus with some other children near the Goldenale creamery. The Percic home is on a road leading north from the creamery. Other children were going in the same direction.

Riding In Cars
On the way home they stopped at the old Midland limestone quarry. There were some empty cars standing on the tracks. These cars were used in the quarries, holding somewhere around four tons.

One of the cars was standing at the bottom of a slight incline. The children thought it would be rare sport to push the car up the incline and coast down. The car was pushed up and the children jumped on, some of them getting inside the car and others clinging to the sides. While the car was moving down the incline Cvetka Percic fell off and under one of the wheels. She was crushed about the breast, although it is not known definitely whether or not the wheel passed over her.

Girl Is Dead
Other children with her ran for help and soon several men were at the scene. They carried the girl to her home. In the meantime a physician had been summoned, but the girl was dead when he arrived. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was called and made an investigation. None of the children were able to give a very (Continued On Page Two)

Plans Complete For Celebration Friday Night

Expect Thousands To Take Part In City Observance

PARADE TO MOVE AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

Hallowe'en celebration Friday evening in the downtown district of the city is an assured success due to the wonderful co-operation of the merchants and the people of the city in general and according to Thomas Blake, chief marshal, it will be the greatest success of any Hallowe'en celebration ever held here, due to the opportunities afforded the mummers to win something of value while having a good time.

Chief Marshal Blake announced as assisting aides for the parade: Ted Marlin, I. Raffel, William Williams and William Caldwell. B. E. Hanlon and W. G. Fleming were previously announced as assistant marshals. Harry K. Bell has been named by the chief marshal as chief honorary aide.

The chief marshal requests that all mummers be at the Legion Home at 6:30 o'clock, to be assigned to their respective divisions in plenty of time, so that the parade may move at 7 o'clock sharp.

The Boy Scouts are asked to be at the Legion Home at 6:30 o'clock prepared to carry flags in the parade.

Lewis J. Lewis, chairman of the prize committee, and his committee, E. E. Tinsman, F. W. Hill, Thomas Edmunds, Orville Potter and T. West today announced a valuable list of prizes totalling ninety-four in all, which will permit of a distribution of prizes to a large group of participants in the parade.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 30.—This must have happened to thousands of school children all over our country, my three came dragging in last night from three different schools, and I immediately asked 'em if they had heard Bernard Shaw's great speech over the radio.

They all said "no, their teachers had 'em listening to them." Now here was perhaps the most brilliant and wittiest speech of our times, brought right to us by this great invention. Yet teachers give their own lectures instead of Shaw's.

Even the newspapers only published extracts of it, but they published all their own editorials, they were improving on Shaw, too, so what good does it do to have a brilliant man tell you something?

Fall Reunion Of Consistory Will End Today

Annual Dinner Club Dinner And Dance Will Bring Convocation To Close

MANY VISITORS HERE WEDNESDAY

One of the most interesting reunions yet held by the New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., will be brought to a close this evening with the annual dinner and entertainment by the Dinner Club of the Consistory, which is expected to be attended by a record crowd.

Hundreds of visitors were present at the reunion Wednesday, representing nearly every city or community in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. The second day of the reunion was brought to a close with the conferring of the 20th degree, with S. Reed McGown, 33, presiding.

Large Crowd
The visitors began arriving early in the afternoon, and when dinner was announced a crowd which taxed the capacity of the dining room had assembled. Just as dinner was about to be served the famous old Youngstown Kilty band, who have enlivened many previous reunions, put in their appearance and added to the merriment of the evening.

The service division had charge of the dinner last evening, when the members of the class were their special guests. An interesting program was carried out for their benefit.

Pep singing was led by "Red" Williams in his own inimitable manner, and after the excellent dinner had been placed under their belts those in attendance sat back to listen to the program.

Auto Owners, Drivers Have Had Time To Have Automobiles Inspected

State Highway patrolmen will comb all Lawrence county roads tonight for the purpose of arresting persons who place obstructions on them. Obstructions placed last night on the East Brook road caused damage to the automobile of Kenneth Palmer, R. D. 2, Volant.

State Highway Patrolman Baxter stated that "ties" had been placed at the base of a hill and that Palmer's car crashed into the obstruction.

Suspicion that Marie McCarthy, 18-year-old University of Wisconsin co-ed, above, who was burned to death in a lonely roadhouse at Madison where she kept a love tryst with her sweetheart, had been drugged, has been voiced by the girl's father, Joseph McCarthy, druggist, Lynman Schley, 23, the co-ed's sweetheart, who owned the roadhouse, shown here recovering from burns received in the fire, said he believes rival roadhouse owners started the blaze. Parents objected to the friendship between Miss McCarthy and Schley because of a difference in religion, the youth said.

Racketeer Slain In Brooklyn, One Other Is Wounded

Gunmen Stop Automobile In Front Of Church And Stage Slaying

POLICE QUESTION WOUNDED YOUTH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—There were drops of blood on the sidewalk in front of the "Church of Our Lady" in Brooklyn today.

At the curb, in front of the church, there was an abandoned automobile, the glass in its rear window shattered by pistol bullets.

In Harbor hospital, Brooklyn, there were two men.

One was dead.

The other was dying.

Members of the Holy Name Society were meeting in the parish house when the automobile drew up in front of the church. There were four men in the car, police said—John Buglio, 30, of Brooklyn, Joseph Dentice, 22, of Milwaukee, Wis., and two others.

"For God's sake," said Buglio—and it was not profanity.

"Here's a church," said one of the two men in the back seat of the car. "Pray!"

Then shots shattered the night's stillness.

Police found Dentice slumped over the wheel of the car, a bullet through his jaw.

They found Buglio dead.

Police Not Satisfied
At Harbor hospital, Dentice said he was Buglio's cousin.

"We were on our way to Coney Island," he told the police. "We (Continued On Page Two)

Boys Endanger Motorists' Lives By Foolish Trick

Hallowe'en spirited boys who put corn stalks, fences and loaves across the highway at various points on the East Brook-Volant road last evening probably thought it great sport, but in reality it was endangering the lives of motorists. Several motorists just avoided serious accidents when coming upon these obstructions.

The boys probably believes that motorists, upon seeing the corn stalks across the road, hiding the loaves, would stop their cars and remove the obstructions, but cars going 30, and 40 miles per hour would have a difficult time avoiding a collision.

This is a serious offense and deserves punishment by the law if the culprits are found.

Three men suspected as the kidnapers of Earl L. Yocum, millionaire banker, today apparently made good their escape from more than 100 possemen, deputy sheriffs and state police.

The suspects were believed to have been cornered in a cornfield near Kewanee.

In Running Battle

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 30.—State police and deputy sheriffs, numbering 100, today fought a running gun battle with three suspected members of the gang which kidnapped Earl L. Yocum, millionaire banker, finally surrounding them in a woods after the trio abandoned their automobile.

Two hundred shots were exchanged in the fight, it was estimated, and one of the trio is believed wounded. Police seized the abandoned car which is believed to have been used in the abduction of Yocum. Yocum was released by the gang after paying a reported ransom of $50,000.

Yocum Threatened

The gang was on its way to bomb the banker's mansion here, police believe, for Yocum was threatened by long distance telephone at midnight and told that unless an additional sum was paid his home would be razed. An armed guard of fifty deputies and American Legion men (Continued On Page Two)

The witches' pot is brewing, a dark mysterious mess, ofoodoo and of hoodoo and very signs, no less. The witches poke the fire and chuckle in their glee, they're making ready for tonight, to frighten you and me. The goblins bring up kindling, and dance a step or two, and now and then knock off their work, to taste the mystic brew. And on the smoke arising in wreaths up to the sky, the witches mount their broom sticks and cloudward start to fly. This is their time of meeting, to frighten you and me, but do we fear their mystic brew, not much, it's fifty three.

Pinchot To Win In Central Area

Survey Indicates Central Counties Of State To Go For Republican

SIZE OF MAJORITY IS IN CONTROVERSY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 30.—The great tier of 12 central agricultural counties, traversing the state between the Alleghenies and the Susquehanna river, will give Gifford Pinchot a plurality over John M. Hemphill in Pennsylvania's gubernatorial contest, a survey disclosed today, with its size depending largely on the vote of dry Democratic farmers.

The Republicans claim a majority of 65,500 for Pinchot in this great central sector, which includes Fulton, Tioga, Clinton, Lycoming, Union and Snyder counties in the north; Centre, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry and Cumberland in the center, and Bedford, Fulton, Franklin, Adams and York on the Maryland line. The Hemphill camp disputes this claim, slashing Pinchot's lead to a bare 12,000 plurality. A synopsis of newspaper and independent forecasts would indicate a Pinchot plurality, however, of about 30,000.

The two camps offer conflicting forecasts in every county. In five counties—Clinton, Centre, Bedford, Fulton and Adams—both sides claim victory. In three others—Union, Blair and York—the Hemphill managers declare the result is "in doubt," but the Pinchot camp claims easy victories.

This whole territory is normally Democratic. To win it Pinchot must capture dry Democratic votes in the rural communities. He must run far better than he did eight years ago, when he lost 16 of these counties, winning only Tioga and Blair, and running 18,822 votes behind his Democratic opponent.

In 1928 the whole sector went Republican, rolling up the record-smashing plurality of 163,000 for Herbert Hoover. In the recent primary Pinchot ran excellently, carrying every one of the counties by a majority over his two Republican opponents and rolling up a majority of 45,000 in his own party.

Two important battlegrounds are Blair and York counties, where opposing predictions differ widely. The Republicans claim each county for Pinchot by a 10,000 to 15,000 plurality. The Democrats and liberals insist that the result in both counties is "in doubt."

passed two men on the street, and Bugio told me to stop and pick them up. He seemed to know them, but I didn't get their names.

"We were in front of the church when they drew pistols and told me to pull over to the curb."

"We were after him," one of them said, indicating my cousin, Bugio. "It's just too bad for you that you happen to be along."

The police said they were dissatisfied with Dentice's story. Bugio, they said, was a grape merchant—wine grapes. And there were rumors of "trouble" over his Brooklyn "territory."

Another report was that he was engaged in New York's latest "racket"—that connected with miniature golf courses.

And they were not at all sure, they said, that Dentice really was his cousin.

You're the JUDGE

The corner property of a certain real estate firm had been standing for some years now, and the owners decided that it might be profitable to build a suitable business building there, so they entered into a contract with a certain firm of builders and after selecting the type of structure they wanted, agreed to pay the builders, progressively, a certain amount when the excavation was completed, another amount when the basement and walls were up, another when the first floor was finished, and so on until the complete contract price was paid.

Among the specifications was one providing for certain "footings" in the foundation to strengthen it. The contractor entered upon the work but when the structure was up to the third floor it suddenly collapsed. The ground cleared off, the contractor again began to work, but when the building was again three stories high it collapsed once more, this time doing damage to an adjacent building. The contractor was disgusted and announced that he would abandon the work and refuse to go through with the job. The lot owners listened to the contractor, and then quietly filed suit for the money already paid and for the damage to the adjacent houses, as well as damages for breach of contract. At the trial the contractor argued that the footings called for in the specifications were insufficient for the building. Nevertheless, the trial went on.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision.

and still another in the back seat with his paws on the back of the driver. Now if it doesn't take a man of iron nerves to drive under these conditions, I wonder.

With perfect weather to help matters a bit, the South Side Halloween celebration tonight promises to be a most successful affair. One would have thought the masquerade event was being held last night judging from the number of mummies down on the South Side last night.

The city's effort to beautify the public square continued today. Two workmen were getting ready to plant a new hedge, to replace the one planted last year and torn out this fall after it failed to show any sign of life. They say this one will bloom next spring.

Oh! What a temptation nice soft concrete is for the younger generation when it is so close to Halloween especially and the officers on duty on North street last night had quite a time of it to see that the newly poured concrete was not tracked up with foot prints of youngsters mischief bent.

Mrs. A. L. Kerr of 304 North Beaver street reported to The News this morning that she and Mr. Kerr had received a box of fruit from their son, Edward N. Kerr of Gilroy, Cal. Mr. Kerr has been in California over twenty years and is one of the most extensive fruit growers of that district.

If the crowd of watchers on North street Wednesday afternoon had turned in and helped pour concrete, it would not have taken long to have had the street finished. The big concrete pourer attracted as much attention as a prima donna, but instead of pouring forth liquid notes, it poured forth volumes of concrete mixture.

charge of the two donation days and the women appointed to take care of the donations coming from their various churches, societies and granges have been working hard and doing everything possible to make the movement a success.

The women selected to have charge of the food coming from their organizations have made arrangements for the convenience of donors. In many cases they have offered to collect the donations, large or small, from the homes of those who wish to help in this great cause.

People who wish to help in the maintenance of this publicly owned institution of health and mercy that has a public use of perhaps many millions of dollars in prevention and cure of disability may make their contributions through their church or their grange or club. They may take their donations to the room in the Moore building if more convenient or they may take them direct to the Jameson hospital, where they will be received by a committee and Dr. Bissell. All donations will be registered.

The room in the Moore building is in readiness. Tables have been donated by Robert Tully of the Carnegie Steel mill. A sign for the window has been donated with the compliments of L. A. Pearsall.

Earl Thompson of the New Castle Works, Robert Tully of the Carnegie Steel mill and Rex Patch of the Pennsylvania Radio Company have donated the use of their trucks for use on both Donation Days—Friday and Saturday. The first donation has been given by Ralph Bousinger of the National Radio Works. Mr. Bousinger gave $25 in cash for the committee to buy any needed supplies.

Now if everyone of the county and city will add his cooperation to this movement it is bound to be a real success. A small donation from everyone will soon amount to a lot. It will mean much in the maintenance of the Jameson hospital, living monument of mercy to the late David Jameson, during the coming year.

Will you help make Friday and Saturday Donation Days of real proportions?

"Alexander Campbell's sermon on 'The Law' and his evening discourse will take up the life of Robert Richardson who was one of the early presidents of Bethany College, a practicing physician of one hundred years ago, president of the college, a teacher of chemistry and other sciences and an author having written the best book ever published on 'The Holy Spirit'."

The remodeling of the church has not been completed and will not be entirely finished in time for the Sunday celebration but the auditorium will be in order for the meeting. The entire cost of the remodeling of the church will run about $30,000 and will be one of the most beautiful edifices in the city upon completion. A relief work ceiling in the auditorium will add greatly to the beauty of this room and when the new lighting fixtures are in use and the new pulpit furniture in place, the congregation will have a beautiful sanctuary to worship in.

MUMMERS WILL PARADE TONIGHT ON SOUTH SIDE

ade, the South Side tonight is the place.

Move Out at Eight
Grand Marshal Edward D. Pritchard says the parade will move at eight, and this means just eight. The mummies will form on Pollock avenue at 7:30, and as the eight o'clock whistle blows the line will move down Reynolds to Mill, down Mill to Long, down Long to Scioto, over Scioto to Reber, down Reber to Moravia, over Moravia to Long and up Long to the Lincoln-Garfield school.

As they pass the judges' stand the mummies will be adjudged for prize-winning costumes, and from there they will go to the schoolhouse, where the prizes will be distributed. Following the prize distribution a street dance will be held on the school yard.

D. O. Davies, general chairman, has everything in readiness, the committees are functioning and with this splendid weather prevailing there isn't a chance that the celebration tonight will be anything but a three-starred success.

Correct this sentence: "Modern literature would still be nasty and sexy and cynical and morbid," said he, "even if the writers were not sickly indoor people."

STAR LORE ECLIPSING VARIABLE STARS—ALGOL

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

Many amateur astronomers with their telescopes devote time to the search for variable stars. Variable stars are those that modify their degree of brightness. Double stars that eclipse each other as seen edge-wise to our line of sight are included as variables. Algol is an illustration: one of the components of Algol is brighter than the other. When the brighter component is eclipsed by the darker star, the brightness drops from the magnitude 2.3 to 3.5. During two days Algol appears of constant brightness. Then for five hours it gradually fades, after which its original brightness returns. Algol being a naked eye star, its period of variability may be observed without a telescope.

surrounded the banker's house to prevent the attack. Searchlights were played upon the house by defenders during the early morning.

Yocum, in appealing to authorities for aid after the telephone threat, admitted that he had not paid the entire ransom sum of $50,000. Ten thousand dollars was due at noon yesterday. Yocum admitted, and it was this sum which the kidnapers were demanding.

Further cash installments were to be paid at intervals, the banker is said to have admitted on questioning. He did not state how much was originally paid over to guarantee his release.

All available police within a radius of fifty miles were drawn in to capture the gang.

Chicago Gang
In the car abandoned by the extortionists, police found several guns and a large quantity of ammunition. The car was manned by a Chicago gang, Sheriff Charles Nash asserted. The hood used to cover Yocum's head was also found.

Directed by Walter Moody, Chief of the State Highway police, the large posse left Kewanee, a neighboring town, shortly after midnight. Moody had learned the licence number of the kidnaper's automobile from persons who had seen the kidnaper better in the machine yesterday morning before he was released near Princeton, Ill.

The police squads encountered the gang near Lafayette, eight miles from Yocum's home. Ordering the men to halt, the police opened fire when the car attempted to out-speed the pursuers. The bandit car was forced into a ditch and the three men leaped out and continued firing as they ran into the woods.

The posses were to close in at dawn in an attempt to capture the men.

"BUY NOW"—Money makes the mare go, only when it is freely in circulation along with merchandise. Money-and-merchandise-in-motion is the life blood of business, and of real prosperity for all. For example, recently the retail business of a western city was increased over 100% in one week by a "Buy Now Campaign"—as a result their orders to manufacturers the next week would show the same increase. If this situation were duplicated all over the country there would be no unemployment problem in sixty days. BUY NOW.

Higgins Says "Yes"

Every week we do a large business in our Fabric sections. It runs along pretty evenly. Women are evidently interested in fabrics. They may do their own sewing or engage dress-makers. And a pretty good indication, too, that hundreds of women find it profitable to come to

A. R. C. Class

The A. R. C. class of the Wesley Methodist church entertained the husbands of the members at a masquerade party Wednesday evening in the basement of the church.

Various games and music were the diversions of the evening. "The Wake" a decidedly mirth provoking feature, was highly enjoyed. Many and varied were the characters represented by the costumes and prizes were awarded the best.

A delicious lunch was served at a late hour and the class adjourned to meet in November with Anna Evans, Atkinson street.

O. E. A. CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

The members of the O. E. A. Club were charmingly received at the home of Mrs. Sol Davies on Neshannock boulevard Wednesday evening, adding another successful meeting to their calendar. The social hours were whiled away in a pleasant manner with cards forming the feature, 500 being selected. At the conclusion of play, the hostess awarded the prizes for honors to Mrs. W. H. Tanney and Mrs. Fredrick Myers for honors, and the club favor was given to Mrs. Charles Westfall.

Later in the evening, a most delectable lunch was served by Mrs. Davies to the members, and one special guest, Mrs. George Bender, which chronicled the close of a pleasant gathering.

HUNTING SEASON TO OPEN

ANNOUNCEMENT is made at Harrisburg by Governor Fisher after consultation with the game commission that the small game hunting season will open according to the season schedule on November 1, with the proviso that there will be no smoking in the woods on the part of hunters.

The prohibition of smoking in the woods was made as a means of preventing serious forest fires, which could easily be started with the woods and forests in the shape that at present prevails. While there have been rains and snows recently, they have not been sufficiently strong to do much more than temporarily moisten the woods and fields. A heavy deluge of several days would really be required to entirely eliminate the fire menace.

Hunting to some nimrods minus a pipe will be rather a sorry tale, but it will perhaps be better than no hunting at all. It is believed, however, that the army of hunters in Western Pennsylvania will obey the spirit of the regulation realizing that there is need for every precaution against fire. It would have been within the power of the governor and the game commissioner to completely spoil the hunter's sport this fall, by calling off the season entirely.

And while there is a menace from fire there will also be a menace to life and limb of hunters this fall. Due to the unemployment situation there will probably be a larger army of hunters in the woods and fields than ever before, especially on the opening days of the season. Every hunter should make more than a special effort to obey the laws of safety and be sure that it is a rabbit or squirrel, and not another hunter, that he is firing at.

Never has there been a hunting season with just the conditions that will mark the one opening on Saturday.

Play Safe!

EVERY CITY TO CARE FOR ITS OWN

PLANS being made by cities of the nation to care for the needy and unemployed during the next few weeks or months as the need may be, it is being emphasized that the plans are to provide for the city's own needy cases, and that no special plans are being made to provide more than temporarily for those who drift into the city from elsewhere.

Every city must provide for its own needy; and the persons deserving charity or work, but it cannot be expected to become an asylum for those who come from other parts of the nation.

The best thing for needy persons in all parts of the nation to do is to stay right where they are. There is no city that will allow any of their own to go hungry or without shelter or clothing. But no city is going to broadcast at the present time that it will provide for all who come. Such a procedure would result in any community being swamped with appeals that would be an impossible burden.

NOW HERE'S A PROBLEM!

There are few unmix blessings in this world. In fact, if one were to be hypercritical, he would find none. Perfection is something mankind ever strives for and never attains.

All had looked upon the development of international air transportation as a boon without evil consequences. How many of our statesmen have said of it that it is a spreader of good! And now the fly in the ointment of aerial progress comes to the surface.

Waxing prophetic and admonitory, a British journalist warns: "Plague and cholera, which are prevalent in Bombay and Burma, cannot without discovery reach Australia by sea, for they reveal themselves in the course of the voyage. But Australia's welcome immunity is threatened when she can be reached by air from Burma in less than three days. At that rate of transit it would, in fact, be possible to transmit smallpox from end to end of the world during its period of incubation."

Immigration quarantine is one of the principal obstacles to the development of intercontinental transportation of passengers by air. In some instances all the time that would be saved by this fast mode of travel would be lost in necessary quarantines at ports of entry. It is a problem aviation, medical science and public health agencies must solve.

TELLING BOBBY JONES SOMETHING

Bobby Jones says he wants to play golf for fun and take an occasional six or seven without worrying.

Oh, master-golfer that you are, Forever shooting holes in par, You're in a dreadful fix. You think it would be fun once more To disregard the total score And sometimes take a "six."

But you're forgotten Bobby Jones, How dolefully the duffer groans And oft is heard to swear. He thinks his life supremely hard. Because upon the medal card That "six" is always there.

That friendly match you sigh to know Is filled with misery and woe. A few good holes sent heaven: For every duffer plods his way. And knows before he ends the day Somewhere he'll take a seven.

Oh, take it from a duffer who Has freedom golf denies to you, And with the gang may mix, No golfer underneath the sun Believes he's playing any fun When piling up a six.

Don't Neglect Colds.

5-Day Week In Politics.

No One Born Too Soon.

The Adaptable British.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Dr. L. Stieglitz, of New York, a brilliant physician and scientist, treated an elderly patient for neglecting a cold. The rebuke should be useful to all men past 50.

"Nothing could be more dangerous," said Dr. Stieglitz. "When you neglect a cold at 60, or older, you deliberately endanger your life. A cold in itself may be easily cured, with two or three days in bed. Neglected it runs into pneumonia."

Mr. Whitney, who died recently, aged 58, had a cold and went about for three days neglecting it, attending to business, and finally went to bed. Pneumonia developed and he died in 24 hours. He hadn't a chance. If he had gone to bed at the first signs of a cold, he would be alive and well now.

Men around 60 are dull beings, usually, but some of them do useful work, and are important to their families. They should heed Dr. Stieglitz's warning.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, enthusiastically welcomed in New England, his stronghold in the 1928 election, attacks President Hoover for neglecting the employment problem. That is politics, and temporary.

The former governor urgently demands a five-day week and is loudly cheered. That is new and important, coming from one that may well be regarded as a presidential candidate for 1932.

Bernard Shaw, in his new "talkie," tells the world he was born 50 years too soon. But, if he could return in 50 years, and learn what has happened to the state of his books, he might be surprised.

No one is born too soon. One in thousands of millions is born to outlast his age, and other ages, Shakespeare, Euripides, Dante, Homer, Michael Angelo. But even they will pass, and become as obsolete as the Cro Magnon artists.

Shaw shows his 75 years in talking about himself too much, his beard, his forehead, his cleverness. Movie-tone managers should speak to him.

On Monday the King looked over his speech, to be read in the House of Lords, and approved it. He said it, then, for the first time, when Ramsay MacDonald, who wrote it, handed it to him. You know that the British are an adaptable people when you see their King approving a speech of imperial policies written for him by a labor unionist.

Can you imagine one of our money kings approving a speech of incorporation policies written in his name by the head of a labor union?

Mussolini, about to celebrate the eighth anniversary of his rise to absolute power in Italy, accuses the European nations of deliberately planning another war, and keeping one group of nations disarmed with that plan in view.

Most important, Mussolini for the first time officially sides with Germany. Hungary and other nations that demand revision of the Versailles treaties.

Our government at present is congratulating itself on sinking 30,000 tons of United States submarines at the suggestion of England, which owns most of the commercial ships afloat and naturally doesn't like submarines.

We may wish before long that we had kept those undersea boats. It would not have cost much, if anything to keep them, and we may soon be rebuilding them.

When you catch a whale you often find some parasite attached to it. Savage sharks have smaller, more savage beasts fastened to their bodies. American business, in lines constantly widening, seems threatened with racketeer parasites, more deadly than any found in the ocean.

The little miniature golf business man might have hoped to escape the racketeer's attention. Joseph Feurman, now dead, learned the contrary.

Detectives say he refused to pay blackmail demanded by miniature golf course racketeers. They took him for a ride in his own automobile, shot him dead, and threw him out. They did it better to take his "two large diamonds and plentiful supply of money," his corpse was intended as a warning to others.

The British government wants to diminish or eliminate the performances, perfunctory numbers now at the tomb of the unknown soldier, and invites all other nations to do the same. Britain thinks the ceremonies keep alive the war spirit, and inflict hardship on visiting statesmen, now expected to buy a wreath and hurry to the tomb on arrival.

The ceremonies that have no meaning might be omitted out of consideration for the unknown dead man. Whoever he may be, he is entitled to rest now, that the war has been over so long.

And the public is tired of nonentities, from abroad, hurrying to the tomb, to use the tomb as an advertisement for themselves.

Not only in Cuba was this military leader notorious for his harsh methods, but Gen. Weyler took an active part in the management of the campaign against the Moroccan tribesmen in 1921. As the INDIANAPOLIS STAR recalls, and "his was a policy of relentless severity, that it had been more than twenty years before."

In a brief recrudescence of his flaming spirit, Weyler recently, "He opposed De Rivera and helped drive him from power last January," says the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS.

Excoriated as he was in Cuba, where "after a lapse of more than thirty years since the end of the Spanish-American War, Weyler's name is still remembered as a national patriotic affection," not because the Spanish people admired cruelty, but because General Weyler was upholding the honor and glory of the nation. ## BIRDS SERVE BOTH TO PROTECT, PLANT TREES, ILLICK SAYS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Describing birds as health officers of trees and tree planters of a high order, State Forester Joseph C. Illick, of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters today called attention to the fact that forest and shade trees, deprived of the assistance of bird life would be next to impossible.

Birds of many kinds comprise the greatest single foe of insect life, and the total damage to trees by insect pests runs annually into hundreds of millions of dollars. Wherever unhealthy conditions prevail as the result of insect attacks, birds are sure to discover them and do something toward remedying the situation, the State Forester said.

"Every part of the tree owes something to its feather little scavengers, the birds," Illick continued. "Woodpeckers, for instance, clamor over the limbs and larger branches, detecting their prey beneath bark. Creepers and nut-hatches frequent the same parts, closely inspecting the crevices. Chickadees, titmice, and kinglets choose for their hunting grounds the smaller branches, twigs, and buds in their search for small insects and their eggs. Cuckoos, orioles, vireos, and warblers closely examine the leaves and prey upon the larvae and sucking insects so abundant there. The insect foes that take to flight are caught after and snapped up by flycatchers, swifts, and swallows."

"The greatest bird scavenger of the forest floor is the oven-bird, which turns over fallen leaves and scans the leaf mold on the ground. Here it finds beetles, weevils, caterpillars, ants, and other forest insects. The common English sparrow is a persistent foe of the Japanese beetle."

"Wherever the food habits of insectivorous birds have been studied, their beneficial influence in protecting the trees from insect foes has been demonstrated most effectively. Actual studies have shown that one-third of the food of the hairy woodpecker consists of the larvae of wood-boring beetles. Ants are its second staple of diet, forming 17 per cent of the total, and include many carpenter ants which hollow out and contribute to the destruction of numerous trees. The downy woodpecker is a great foe of the codling moth, cause of "wormy apples," and feeds on the eggs of tent caterpillars.

"If you would help the trees, therefore, help the birds, and here are some practical suggestions on how to do it:

"In summer, by supplying suitable bathing and drinking places.

"In autumn, by seeing to it that protective laws are observed during the hunting season.

"In winter, by maintaining feeding stations and protective plantings.

"In spring by providing nesting materials, putting up bird houses, and planting trees in which the birds will find, year after year, food, shelter and nesting places."

Blames Worn Tires As Auto Accident Cause; Urges Legal Standard

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Motor Vehicle Commission Benjamin G. Eynon and Superintendent Wilson C. Price, of the State Highway Patrol believes the time is near when Pennsylvania's Motor Code will include a provision that motor vehicles must be equipped with good tires.

"Not long ago," said Captain Price to-day, "a motor bus left the highway and crashed through several porches doing a great deal of damage and injuring a number of persons. The accident should not have happened. It was caused by a bad tire, which blew" while the bus was traveling at high speed. Our investigation showed that the repairman at bus headquarters knew the tire was bad, but took a chance on its lasting through another round trip. When it blew out it wrecked the airbrake mechanism. The result can be imagined."

Cinder Piles On Harlansburg Hill

Anticipating November snowfalls and dangerous, icy pavements, the highway department has already placed large piles of cinders at intervals along the road on the steep hill west of Harlansburg. When the first snow falls the cinders can in a very few minutes be scattered over the hill pavement, making it non-skidable.

A number of other steeper hills of Lawrence county have been equipped with cinder piles and doubtless they will prove invaluable.

Castoria... for CHILDREN'S ailments

ARE you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or for the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish spell, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine.

Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the formula on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

News Reporter Roams Up Interior Of Church Steeple To See Clock

It was thrilling—that trip into the steeple of the First Christian church. The perilous climb up the perpendicular foot ladder, the scary connection that had to be made to the next ladder, the rickety stairs in the dark, then over wobbly floor boards and on still another ladder. Up, up, up and into the strange room that will, in a day or so, be filled with a huge clock mechanism with shafts reaching to the four glowing white fences, relaying to them the correct time to broadcast to all New Castle.

What a queer room—a large hole in the center of the floor, where the ladder stands and the ceiling was the inside of the steeple, the sides coming to a point 80 feet from where the writer stood. Scores of beams crossed back and forth in support, and on each side of the clock chamber were the white glass clock faces. In one corner was the hole through which the steeple-jacks crawl in order to get on the exterior of the steeple.

H. C. McLaine and J. F. Varmun, who are in charge of the installing of the clock, say that the mechanism will be in place and in working order by Friday. They have been working on the installation since Tuesday of last week. These men just recently installed identical clock mechanism in a Slippery Rock tower.

The clock faces were put in place on Monday and Tuesday of this week. They were carried up the series of ladders and stairs by workmen and it was a most difficult task, according to McLaine. The glass and frame work were carried up in a number of sections and parts of the iron clock face framework weighed 150 pounds apiece! The reporter found it difficult task to make the climb with just a pencil and piece of paper in hand, let alone a 150 weight.

Three hundred watt light globes will be placed behind each face of the great clock and if the time cannot be told at night it won't be because the lights are not strong enough!

The small wooden boarded windows at the corners of the clock chamber will be replaced with bright copper ones, according to Carl Becker who is in charge of the steeple work, and who escorted the writer to the towering heights far above the roofs of New Castle.

Mr. Becker suggested that the writer step out one of the little windows, sit on the cute little swing out there and get a free ride to the top of the steeple. Interesting, but no thanks! That may be razberry jam to a steeple-jack Carl Becker, Cecil DeCaprio, G. E. Webb or Joe Long but it is too much for a mere pen pusher.

Becker's men are re-shingling the steeple and spend many hours of the day dangling up and down in that swing—just 180 or 190 feet from Mother Earth. And they vow that it is safer than walking down Washington street!

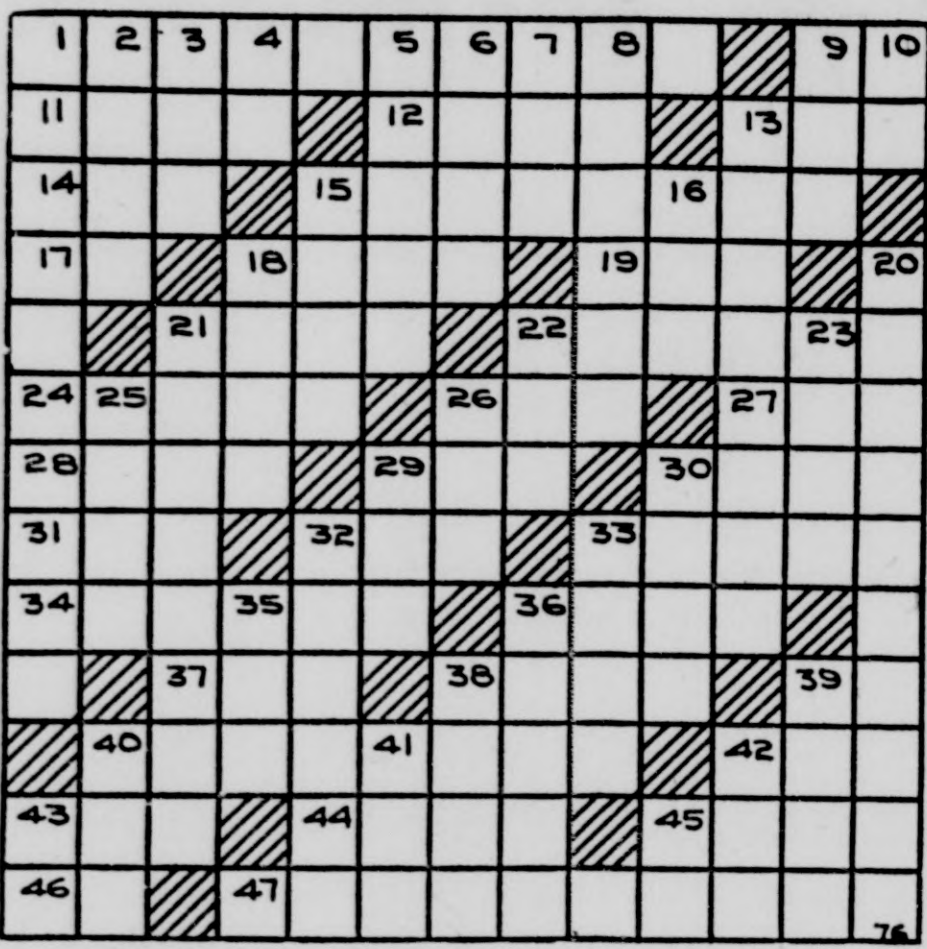

Today the main parts of the clock are being lugged to the chamber and tomorrow everything will be hotly totsy. The clock will have a little resemblance to the court house clock, but it will be a much more modern and efficient one. It will be operated by a master clock located in the first floor corridor and will be run by electricity. Every part of the mechanism is solid brass, the writer is told.

Clock hands are of black carbonized wood and the minute hands are exactly a yard in length. After the short stay in the clock chamber the writer was escorted back down the many wobbly ladders, down the 100 and some feet to the bottom.

When The News representative stepped off the last rung of the last ladder in descent from the steeple she felt a little like she had just completed a thrilling altitude flight. And it was a feeling of pleasure to again be walking on dear old Terra Firma.

"Modern young people stop at nothing." Especially annoying, too, when another turn of the dial would bring in good music.

"Use Palmolive Beads for safe washing of silk hosiery"

advise Silk Manufacturers of World Renown

CORTICELLI...HOLEPROOF...KAYSER...LUXITE
PHOENIX...VANITY FAIR...VAN RAALTE

WOULD you protect your silk hosiery against unnecessary runs... keep colors like new... prolong wear? Then read what the great silk manufacturers advise as the correct way to wash silk stockings—all fine fabrics.

For years these master craftsmen have created America's finest hosiery. For years, too, they have used no soap for washing costly silk skeins that did not contain olive oil. Because—they declare—such a soap dissolves, cleanses and rinses away in water cool enough to be safe for silks.

Called "Ideal Soap for Silks"

These leading silk manufacturers submitted Palmolive Beads to exhaustive tests in their own laboratories. And now all of them acclaim this new discovery "the ideal soap for silks."

"Its olive and palm oils give a gentle cleansing action that protects the life of silk fibre," declares Kayser.

"It rinses away with the greatest ease," says Van Raalte.

"We foresee longer wear for silk stockings with this new and different fine fabric soap," writes Phoenix.

Approved by Committee of 17

What hosiery manufacturers have found to be true of Palmolive Beads in laboratory tests. American women find true in home washing of silks. The Committee of 17—a group of America's most distinguished women... called recently to the Ritz Hotel to watch tests of the new soap discovery—unanimously voted Palmolive Beads "the ideal soap for all fine fabrics."

Give your own lovely lingerie and sheer silk hosiery the protection of this new bead soap. Order a box from your dealer today.

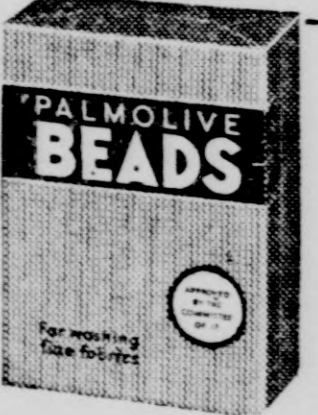

Vanity Fair interprets in sheer silk hosiery the flare and style that are an essential part of the modern woman's dress today. "If you wash silk hosiery with Palmolive Beads," says Vanity Fair, "you will obtain the longest life and beauty possible from silk stockings."

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE VINCENT

FURTHER ORDERS

Commander Ant had shouted orders without stopping for breath. Now, however, she paused for a moment, and Peter thought she was looking for someone. The boy was right.

"Nurse Ant! Nurse Ant! Where is the Head Nurse?" called Commander. A fat black ant stepped forward.

"Here, Commander!" the fat ant cried. "What can I do to serve you?"

"Assemble your sisters and bid them carry the babies to the farther side of the ant hill. Keep watch of what is going on; of course one or two of your younger nurses will be good girl scouts and report to you every movement. Should you learn that the battle is going against our side, Head Nurse, waste no time in mourning over the fact, but pick up the babies and run away with them as fast and as far as you can. The Worker Ants will follow you, while we soldiers hold the enemy at bay. When the Workers overtake you they will help you build a new home."

"Please Commander!" Head Nurse held up a timid paw.

"Well, what is it, Commander?" spoke Head Nurse much as might a teacher to a child in school.

"Suppose you can't hold the enemy. What is to prevent the Red Ants following the Worker Ants and overtaking them and us too?"

"There is no such word as 'can't' in the ant language!" declared Commander, severely. "We are not going to lose this battle if I can help it, and I think I can if you don't keep me standing here talking too long. Listen, Head Nurse! Be sure if you have to run, to run as far as you can and double on your tracks, so you'll not leave a straight trail for the enemy to follow. Remember the underground passages that lead to the upper world? Escape through those, and block them up behind you!"

Next: "That's the Question."

Moleskin Steam Roller Forfeits With Molar

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 30.—One touchdown equals one tooth. This is the new arithmetic devised by Emmett Tweedy, Turtle Creek, Pa. star end on the Westminster College football team. At least circumstances have forced Tweedy to invent this new count.

In last Saturday's game, Tweedy starred by scoring two touchdowns when Westminster defeated Slippery Rock State Teachers by a 29-0 score. But he lost two of his teeth. But Tweedy will gladly go toothless on November 8 when the Titans play Geneva if he can score at will and help defeat the Covenantors.

The thermometer went considerably higher today and weather seems more like August than late October.

(International News Service) AKRON, O., Oct. 30.—An increase of two and one-half to three per cent in tire prices, to become effective November 1, was announced

Other companies are expected to follow in order to equalize the quotations on the various grades of tires. ## Pinchot Appeals To Coal Miners

Pinchot Asks Miners To Recall Help He Gave Them Back In 1923

(International News Service) SHENANDOAH, Pa., Oct. 30.—Appealing for support of miner because of his record in negotiating the settlement of the strike in 1923, Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for Governor, today struck out through Northumberland, Montour and Union counties on the home stretch of his campaign tour. "I was our friend in 1923 and if you send me to Harrisburg you can count on me regarding what John L. Lewis has done or may do," Pinchot told miners here last night in a campaign speech. Lewis opposed the Republican nominee in the primary campaign.

Pinchot was accompanied on his tour of anthracite fields yesterday by Rich "Pitchell," Wilkes-Barre, son of John "Pitchell," former president of the United Mine Workers and central figure of the Mitchell Day celebration, staged throughout the anthracite belt yesterday.

Urges Support Young Mitchell urged miners to support Pinchot and the Republican nominee in his principal addresses here and at Pottsville, paid tribute to the memory of the elder Mitchell as a mine leader.

Paul W. Houck, chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation Board, presided at the meeting here last night. Municipal Judge E. V. Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, Democrat who has announced his support of Pinchot, also spoke, attacking John M. Hemphill, Democratic candidate for governor and Sedgwick Kistler, Democratic nominee for senator.

Bonniwell asserted Hemphill has abandoned the Democratic standard. The Republican gubernatorial nominee today was still suffering from a hoarse throat, result of continued open air speaking. At Pottsville he was examined by a physician who pronounced him in excellent physical condition otherwise and gave him a throat treatment.

Girls Deceitful? Boys Tell Why In Hot Debate At "Y"

Because they use lip stick and rouge, have their hair waved, roll stockings, and smoke, girls are not true to their nature and therefore deceitful. That is the belief of Ben Franklin Hi-Y debate team members who took part in a verbal battle among themselves in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. The first and second teams of the club had a delicate subject: "Resolved that girls are more deceitful than boys."

The affirmative was upheld by William White, John Deau, Nesbitt Blakely, Solomon Waldman, Eugene Schweinsburg, who told some feminine weaknesses which they claimed were really artificial to attract masculine attention. Clarence Lennig and Daniel Racioppo, the latter advisor of the club argued that girls are not more deceitful and that boys are really more to blame. They contended.

"Boys smoke to look big, use hair tonic to deceive the girls, get automobiles when they can't afford them, don't wear garters."

Hemphill Seeks Miners' Votes

John M. Hemphill, Tours Northeastern Section Of Hard Coal Region

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 30.—Making his first drive into the northeastern section of the state, John M. Hemphill, Democratic-Liberal candidate for governor, left here today for a swing through Monroe and Lackawanna counties, after invading Luzerne county yesterday on the last lap of his campaign tour.

Hemphill was scheduled to speak at Stroudsburg today and Scranton tonight. In a campaign address here last night, the Democratic standard bearer bid for the support of miners and laboring groups of the region with a declaration in favor of old age pensions, enlargement of the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and opposition to the indiscriminate use of the injunction in labor disputes.

Hemphill told his audience that Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee, had made similar declarations but said "they mean nothing" because Pinchot was backed by Senator Joseph R. Grundy who would really rule the state if Pinchot is elected.

"Never have we had in Pennsylvania a man so backward, destructive and willing to destroy the efforts of men like John Mitchell as Joe Grundy," he asserted.

Hemphill further charged that Grundy had repudiated the people in the primaries and is trying to gain control of the state through Pinchot.

Hemphill praised John Mitchell, late mine leader in whose honor a celebration was held throughout the hard coal fields yesterday and warned against the "Grundy influence" against things for which Mitchell had stood.

Factory Inspector On Periodic Visit Lauds Safety Here

J. B. Wakely Praises Safety Precautions Taken By New Castle Industries

In a brief interview before leaving the city today for Meadville, J. B. Wakely of Knoxville, Pa., deputy factory inspector for the state department of labor and industry, declared that safety has become a paramount object of industrial plants in this district and that accidents have decreased greatly during the past year.

The factory inspector also told of the recent approval by his department of plans for the erection of buildings for Burton Explosives, Inc., at Covert station.

"That will be a real plant when it is finished," Wakely commented. He showed a huge blueprint which had been perused in the department of labor and industry and approved by Charles J. Gotwalt in the division of buildings. Wakely said: "When all is ready the powder industry here will be housed in a plant having 34 separate buildings located in an area of about 400 acres."

The explosive plant plans, Wakely said, have also been approved by the bureau of state police.

Wakely makes periodic trips to this district. The object of the visits by the representative of the state department is to promote safety in industrial plants, to investigate accidents and assist in eliminating future mishaps by correcting plant faults.

He said that New Castle plants in general now have a splendid safety record with few lost time accidents for a considerable time. Among the high safety industries here Wakely said, the Johnson Bronze company has reduced its yearly accident rate 60 per cent during the past year.

Five Miners In France Killed By Explosion

Many Others Believed Trapped By Blast Are Still In Mine

(International News Service) CHARLEROI, France, Oct. 30.—Five miners were reported killed and a number of others may have been entombed by an explosion which wrecked one of the lower levels of a coal mine at Montigny today. The cause of the explosion was not determined. Rescue squads were rushed into the wrecked shaft to clear an exit for those miners thought to have been imprisoned by the blast.

This was the third serious explosion in the European coal fields within two weeks, 231 miners having been killed in a series of blasts which wrecked the Anna mine at Alsford, Germany, while 94 miners lost their lives in a coal gas explosion at the Maybach mine at Saarbrücken.

15,000 Workers Hired To Take Canadian Census

Important Statistics Will Be Taken In Addition To Population Count

TO MAKE SURVEY OF UNEMPLOYMENT

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—Fifteen thousand workers will be hired by the Canadian government to take the 1931 census.

Important additions to the Dominion's population, increases in the volume of manufacturing, and gains in practically every industry will, it is expected, be recorded in the new census, according to a bulletin issued here by the Department of Immigration and Colonization of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Like the recent census of the United States, the bulletin sets forth, "the 1931 Canadian census will include additional information on seasonal unemployment, inter-provincial trade, production, industry, and other items."

"Since colonization development has been rapid in the last ten years, with a rising tide of farm immigration to Western Canada from the United Kingdom, the United States and Western Europe, agriculture is expected to show one of the biggest percentages of gain among all Canadian industries."

The new census, according to the bulletin, will cover an expansive area in Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the international boundary to the Arctic Ocean. The Dominion claims credit for taking the first modern, scientific census more than 250 years ago when Canada was the colony of New France. This census of 1696 revealed a total population of 3,215 people, or one-fifth as many as will be required to take the 1931 census. Today the Dominion's population is estimated well in excess of 10,000,000 people.

Salzburg To View New Miracle Play

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Oct. 30.—A new miracle play, over 300 years old, will be staged by Max Reinhardt during the Salzburg Festivals next year. The play is called "Zenodorus, the Doctor of Paris," and it was Hugo von Hofmannsthal, who prepared a German version of the original Latin text dating from 1609 written by a Jesuit Father. Only two copies of this book are still extant, the one being in Madrid and the other in Salzburg.

The work tells of a famous philanthropist living in Paris, who dies and is carried to his grave, and then appears before God for judgment. The main part is divided into three sections. The Summons, the Impeachment, and the Judgment.

The work is also historically significant, as it caused a split in the ranks of the Society of Jesus, and led to the foundation of the Trappist Order.

The play, although hidden away for centuries touches on problems that continue to appeal strongly to mankind, and is said to be a fine dramatic work.

Parisians Are Becoming Healthy

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 30.—Parisians are becoming more and more healthy, according to latest reports from the Bureau of Public Health. During the past two years there has been a marked decrease in epidemics and many of the doctors are complaining of bad business. This is particularly true in the case of women who are showing signs of far better health. Improving conditions are believed to be due to better housing and the general increase of athletic sports. Parisians are taking more and more to tennis and other sports and just beginning to practice walking.

Correct Proportions Are Highly Important In Features Of Face

(This is another lesson in the national cartoon contest of Central Press.)

By LOUIS BIEDERMANN
Famous Newspaper Illustrator.

In striving for success in the comic art field the young artist should remember that to draw comics well one should know how to portray people and objects seriously. You should be able to draw things much as they appear before you can make caricatures of them. For caricatures are true pictures exaggerated.

For today's lesson I have diagrammed an eye, ear, nose and mouth. The squares of the diagram show you what the proper proportions are. Study the points that the dotted lines touch. In the ear they show you where the extremities of that member are and where the exact center is.

In drawing lips be sure that the exact center of the mouth is actually the center. Look at the picture and note that the sides of the lips are exact duplicates only reverse of each other.

Now try drawing these features first making the square diagram and then drawing the features in the proportion shown here.

Next: Full Figure and Head.

Electric Eye Detects Flaws In Milk Bottles

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 30.—An "electric eye" that detects flaws in milk bottles and is expected to reduce the milkman's bill for broken bottles will be demonstrated to 1,500 members attending the 23rd annual convention of the International Association of Milk Dealers here October 20 to 23.

The new device according to its inventor, Prof. A. L. Duval D'Adriat of St. Louis, reveals whether a milk bottle is perfect or has structural weaknesses that will result in early breakage. More than 13,000,000 milk bottles are broken or lost every year in the United States, it is estimated. The average milk bottle, it is said, makes only 29 trips from the dairy to the household before it is shattered.

Problems affecting the milk dealer from whether horse-and-wagon delivery should be supplanted by automobile delivery to how to reduce traffic accidents caused by early morning revelers speeding home from night clubs will be discussed by the delegates at the convention. Experts in dairy research, sanitation, pasteurization, chemistry, advertising, plant operation and accounting will be on the program. Addresses according to F. D. Wainwright, of Chicago, president of the association, and the New York Agricultural Experiment station will attend the sessions and present the result of research in their respective fields.

The delegates will consider such subjects as sales promotion, methods of collecting overdue accounts, how to increase the nutritive value of milk, how chain stores are affecting the industry, processing bottling, delivering and sales to the housewife, cost accounting, progressive advertising methods, mechanical refrigeration on dairy farms and health aspects.

Officials of the association in addition to Wainwright are: L. A. Van Bommel of New York, vice president; Dr. D. B. Peck of Chicago, treasurer and R. E. Little of Chicago, executive secretary.

The reason some railroads are so slow is that they take too much time for station announcements.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drug store. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germy laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Needs Minister To Get Her Out Of Jail

(International News Service)
DENVER, Oct. 30.—After her lawyer had exhausted the resources of the legal profession, Esther Matson, 23, found that it would take a minister to free her from the Denver jail.

Miss Matson pleaded guilty to charges of violating the prohibition law. Her attorney, Ben B. Laska, pleaded that she was the victim of an environment.

"Do you belong to a church?" Judge J. Foster Symes asked her.

"Yes," the girl answered. Judge Symes then consented to having Miss Matson placed on probation with the minister of her church — on condition that Laska find the minister before she could be released.

Laska has been conducting a thorough search of the city for Miss Matson's minister.

Old-Time Boys Mischief Makers

(International News Service)
MILFORD, Conn., Oct. 30.—Boys were full of mischief 250 years ago. Records have been uncovered here showing that in 1671 10 boys were arrested and fined 10 pounds apiece for burning an Indian fort that stood on the banks of the Housatonic river where the village of Devon now has existence.

Robert Treat, founder of Milford and later the founder also of New York, N. J., was the judge. The Wepawung tribe of Indians made complaint and Judge Treat acted promptly. That at least was an example of fairness to the Indians, who dwelt in harmony with the whites in Milford.

Descendants of the 10 boys who were fined for burning the Indian fort in 1671 are among the leaders of affairs here today. The descendants first arched their eyebrows and then grinned when the information was laid before them in a speech at Milford historical society

Beautiful Campus Of 60 Acres Now Surround Institution

(International News Service) DENVER, Oct. 30.—A tiny "half-a-room" school with one student which grew to a one-quarter million dollar institution with an enrollment of nearly 200, opened its doors for its 17th year in a new set of buildings here this month.

When the students file into the beautiful buildings of the Denver Bible Institute on a 60-acre campus just outside of Denver, they will be entering college halls they themselves have built, from the digging of the trenches for the foundations to the driving of the last nail in the last shingle laid on the roofs.

The institute is maintained by gifts of money from thousands of people scattered all over the United States.

Rev. Clifton L. Fowler, itinerant evangelist, drew around him a tiny circle of young men interested in learning to preach the "word of God" 17 years ago. He was without funds. A plumber allowed him to share a tiny shop. From that beginning the institute had its start.

"We started with one student," Rev. Fowler, now dean of the institute, said. "Then a few more came."

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

"IN GAY MADRID"

My wife kept house, besides heading our tiny "music department" and being "director of women" for the school. We taught our students to sing gospel hymns, to know and preach from the Bible. The little money we received was given by religious people who commended our efforts.

Two years after its inception the institute had grown sufficiently to warrant larger quarters. Since that time the school has moved several times, each time to make room for a larger enrollment.

A 60-acre tract on the Golden road was purchased. The staff of teachers at the school immediately began digging for the building foundations. Students volunteered. Gifts of money from the many friends of the institute came in at the call of Dean Fowler and his co-workers.

Nearly a dozen new buildings have been constructed during the last two years. There is a combination chapel and dining hall, two men's dormitories, a large beautiful girls' dormitory, six cottages and several large cattle and poultry barns.

The farm is operated to enable some of the students to work their way through school. It has produced well this year. Several carloads of tomatoes were shipped; the 400 hens produced eggs in abundance. There are eight milk cows.

The institute is maintained by gifts of money from thousands of people scattered all over the United States.

Explosion, Fire Damage Newspaper Plant At Indiana

Indiana, Pa., "Gazette" Building Is Damaged By Explosion Today

(International News Service) INDIANA, Pa., Oct. 30.—Fire which followed an explosion in the elevator shaft of the plant of the Indiana "Gazette," afternoon daily newspaper, today damaged the interior of the press room to the extent of about $3,000, plunged nearby buildings into darkness, severed power, light and telephone cables and forced the "Gazette" to suspend publication temporarily.

The "Gazette" is published by R. H. Ray and edited by F. M. Smith. Although no definite cause for the fire was immediately learned, it was believed to have been the result of spontaneous combustion in the elevator shaft.

The explosion that preceded the fire severed telephone, power and light cables in the square where the "Gazette" plant is located. Offices in the square formed by Philadelphia and Water and Eighth and Ninth streets were without electrical service following the blast.

The newspaper press itself was undamaged but the press "rollers" were destroyed by flames.

Emergency arrangements were made by Smith to publish an unofficial "Gazette" this afternoon. Telegraphic dispatches from all parts of the world were rushed to the front window of the newspaper with the result that "Gazette" readers were kept in close touch with news events despite the temporary suspension of publication.

It was expected that repairs would be completed and publication resumed tomorrow.

Fishermen Here Get Word Of Fish Board Program For Future

Year Has Been Driest In Memory Of Fish Enthusiasts; Plan To Make Water Survey

This has been one of the driest years in the memory of fishermen in the state, according to a report of the Board of Fish Commissioners. A program covering the distribution of fish for the future was received this week by fishermen in New Castle and Lawrence counties.

The report indicates that by stocking only the main streams which have sufficient water at all times, thousands of fish have been saved. Prior to September, 1930, the Board of Fish Commissioners has accepted applications from associations, clubs and individuals requesting fish for stocking the various streams and waters throughout the Commonwealth. Under the previous program which was adopted several years ago the Board advised all those making application that the following program would be carried out:

That in the distribution of trout, it would accept applications only for the main streams in the various counties; that is, the streams known as the major streams, having sufficient water throughout the year, and giving ample protection for the trout. Naturally this class of stream is not affected to any great extent in the time of drought.

In the distribution of bass, the Board confined its efforts to the stocking of only the large streams which were suitable. All applications for small lakes or ponds being refused.

In the distribution of sunfish, yellow perch, pike perch, catfish, etc., the Board ruled it would continue along the same lines as previously and accept applications for all waters in which these species of fish would be suitable.

During the years the above program has been in effect, the Board found it had more control over applications and waters to be stocked than previously, but there were many difficulties to be met. During the last year a complete study has been made of the whole situation and at the September meeting the Board with an additional report covering the extended drought.

This year was one of the driest years in the memory of fishermen insofar as most of the waters of the Commonwealth were concerned, and it is most gratifying to the

Broke from Its Mast

Like an apparition from the hereafter, this Navy kite balloon hangs gaunt and ghostlike only three miles from the Atlantic Ocean. The runaway broke loose from its mooring mast at Lakehurst, N. J., and led the Navy men there a merry chase through the Jersey woods.

Board to know that the program which had been set up as to the stocking of streams had proven conclusively that by stocking only the main streams which have sufficient water at all times, thousands of fish had been saved. Many of the small streams which had previously been stocked were dried up completely with little possibility of their returning to their former state insofar as fish life was concerned.

It was agreed unanimously by the Board that in the future it would support the following program:

That as soon as it is physically possible the Commissioner and his designated assistants make a survey of the waters in the different counties, which in his opinion are suitable for the species of fish propagated by the Board, and in making this survey, he designate the waters where the fish are to be placed. In making the distribution, it is to be done with the Board's own appurtenances, and further that as soon as it can be worked out, all applicants for fish be advised as to the new program of the Board.

It was agreed that the program as set forth was distinctly a step forward in the right direction, and that while it would undoubtedly bring criticism from certain quarters, it was destined to work out, not only to the satisfaction of the Board but to the fishermen, and that it would eventually eliminate many complaints which were made about the present system of applications for fish. However, investigations which were made showed that these complaints were unwarranted but there were so many petty jealousies throughout the Commonwealth that it was almost a physical impossibility to satisfy those who were making application for fish.

The adoption of this program means that in the future no applications will be distributed, and that all distribution will be in streams and waters designated by the Board, and it will be carried out to the letter.

A complete record is on file in the office of the Board of the applicants supplied with fish during the last few years and in every instance where it is possible associations, clubs and individuals in the district where shipments are to be made will be notified as to the time of arrival, the species and the waters to be stocked.

In carrying out the above, the Board of Fish Commissioners will discontinue distributing applications, but will take care of those which have already been sent to the hatchery for fall distribution. It will take some time to get this program into operation, and it is hoped that all those interested in the fisheries will do everything they can to assist the Board.

Robbers Busy During Night

Three Burglaries Are Reported To Police—Loot Taken

SERVICE STATION IS ROBBED OF $35

Thieves were busy here during the night, according to the reports at police headquarters. Money and considerable quantities of merchandise were taken. The authorities are investigating, but due to the fact that the thieves left little in the way of clues, has resulted in little headway being made in the effort to solve the robberies.

William Hanna of the service station, Boyles and Highland avenues, reported this morning that his place of business had been entered during the night.

Detective John Young and Officers Thomas Lynch and John Moore investigated and found that entrance had been effected through the front door of the place. Cash to the amount of $35 and a chewing gum machine in which there was both gum and money was taken.

Cigarettes Taken
Officer McMullen discovered on making his rounds that the wholesale tobacco concern of Ben Brown, 7 West Washington street, had been entered. The investigation was made by Officer McMullen, Detective John Young and Officers Thomas Lynch and M. J. Young.

Entrance was gained through an iron steel door in the rear of the place of business. A brick was used in prying up the iron door sufficiently to permit the unloosening of the catch of the door.

Bolt of an inner wooden door was then jimmied open and entrance gained to the storeroom. The safe and $10 in the cash register were not touched.

Four large containers filled with cigarettes and valued at $64 for each container, were taken.

Store Robbed
Late Wednesday Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch were called upon to investigate a robbery occurring at the Stevenson grocery at Finch and Lathrop streets.

Here entrance was gained by breaking the glass in rear door. Considerable merchandise was taken at this place, including 12 one-half pound packages of cheese, two boxes of marshmallows, four cartons of cigarettes, three boxes of silk thread, bacon, etc.

REVISION OF MEXICAN LAWS TOO LATE FOR HIM

Taps Sounded For Old Steeple Weather Vane

The old weather vane was removed, the other day. After over 60 years of staunch, faithful service, the 200 pound symbol was removed from its regal seat on the tip of the First Christian church steeple. For the first time since it was carted to the top of the steeple in 1868, the sturdy wrought-iron direction indicator has kissed old Mother Earth. It's long duty has been terminated.

The rain, wind, sun and snow of over 60 winters and summers have left their marks on the stolid wrought-iron mold, but it is untouched by rust, as was the base on which it stood.

For the first time in over 60 years do the iron arms of the old symbol point untrue. As it lies prostrate on the ground behind the church building the west arm points to the north and east arm points to the south. The old vane is perhaps considerably saddened by its denouement and it is probably a bit ashamed of the fact that its west arm isn't pointing to the west and that its west arm isn't pointing to the west and that its east arm is not pointing to the east.

But it has been a faithful servant for a long time.

the home culminated in a divorce application being filed by Paul Albino, who charged cruelty on the part of his wife. To the application Mrs. Emma Albino filed an answer, in which she denied the charges of cruelty.

Testimony of witnesses on both sides shows that the couple have been having much trouble. Friends of each of the litigants cite special instances of discord. Evidence shows that Mrs. Albino has been in rather poor health as a result of several operations.

Narrow Escape Of Man Named Sankey At New Bridge Over Hickory Creek

A man named Sankey had a close call for his life yesterday afternoon at a new bridge over Hickory creek near Mt. Jackson, where Eugene Scanlon, contractor, is doing some excavating with a steam shovel.

Sankey was driving one of the large trucks. He had backed his truck up to the steam shovel in such a way that the shovel swung over the cab of the truck.

As the shovel was swinging immediately over the cab the cable holding it broke and the heavy shovel crashed down through the cab. Sankey jumped as the shovel hit the cab, barely clearing the cab as it was smashed to kindling wood.

NEW TYPE PEN FOR BREEDING AT GAME FARM

One Hundred Breeding Pens
Will Be Put Into Use At Farm Next Spring

One hundred new type breeding pens will be erected in the near future at the Jordan state game farm near Harlansburg and will be used next spring for breeding purposes, according to the keeper of the farm, H. J. Sines.

A number of the pens have already been erected at the farm and one has already been assembled and moved. They will be set on part of the 7 acres of land across the road from the main farm territory, and during the breeding season, five pens and a male bird will be put in each pen.

Last March the birds were left in the fields during the breeding season, and in no set type of pens. It is believed that this new system will be the more satisfactory.

Each breeding pen is 12 feet wide and 14 feet high. They will all be painted silver.

The 70 acre field that was used last March for breeding has been sown in with wheat and will not again be used for breeding grounds until 1932. The grounds are changed every year in order to keep down disease. There is little danger of the ringnecks catching disease from fresh ground.

PUMP AT GAME FARM IS DRY

A pipe line is being laid from a spring on the Jordan state game farm several hundred yards to the home of H. J. Sines, keeper of the farm. The pump which has formerly supplied the Sines home with water went dry some time ago, making it necessary to get a new source of supply.

GARDNER NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of Wayne Stop and children came to Gardner last Sunday and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and family. Children Everett, Gladys, Marian and Bessie came to Gardner last Sunday afternoon to visit old friends. Their home is near McFarland school house on the Harlansburg road.

Mr. and Mrs. William Currie of Shenango Stop entertained the latter's father and sister at dinner last Sunday. William Seal and daughter Louise of Smiley Stop.

Mrs. I. A. Lytle and Mrs. J. G. Constock of East New Castle spent a day at Gardner recently in the interest of the City Rescue mission. The women met a ready response to their plea and received aid from almost every home in our village.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Earl and son William of Gardner went to Ellwood City last Sunday and were guests of Mrs. Earl's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coulter.

Mrs. Sophia Hartzell of the Pittsburgh road left last Sunday for Pittsburgh, where she expects to spend some time at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Borchers of Ingram.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Slater of the old Pittsburgh road entertained the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Altman of Butler, last Saturday evening. Last Tuesday Mrs. Birsch spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Slater, and family. The sisters passed the time very pleasantly and profitably in making several gallons of fine sauerkraut.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moore of Gardner gave a masked party for a few friends last Saturday night. The house was decorated in orange and black. Refreshments were served by the hostess, and a very pleasant social time was enjoyed by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walls of the Youngstown hill, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hulbert of Pittsburgh, Albert Bauman and Miss Kathryn McGrath of New Castle.

On Monday night Mrs. Moore gave a masked party for the children on her own street, Cornell avenue. The little folks had a royal good time and entered into the Halloween spirit of the occasion with great enthusiasm. Those present were Virginia, Dorothy, Marian, Robert, Louise and Mildred Hay, Justine, Elmer Charles, Sally Lou and Jackie Morrow, Raymond Shaffer and Gladys, Sidney and Gertrude Moore. Mrs. Frank M. Hay and Virginia assisted Mrs. Moore in entertaining the children and in serving dainties which were greatly appreciated by the little folks.

Their friends at Gardner will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hetterbaugh of New Castle left yesterday morning for the mountains of Kentucky, where Mrs. Hetterbaugh expects to again take up mission work as she did some years ago. Mrs. Hetterbaugh preached for some time at Gardner chapel, and her husband assisted in all the meetings.

A group of 18 sophomore A's of the senior high school in New Castle came to Gardner last Friday night to the home of Miss Florence Schumaker, one of their former teachers, when they were at Ben Franklin school. It was a Halloween party and the home had a few decorations of smiling pumpkin faces, black cats, witches and the like. It was a merry party from start to finish, and as every one was masked and clad in costume they made an interesting study. Some of the girls had very neat outfits, but some were very laughable. The most fantastic appearance was made by a young woman who had evidently studied the fashion plates of 1860 and her wasp-waist basque and hat covered with black feathers caused much merriment. Two of the young men wore feminine attire and had every one guessing who they were. The evening was spent with games and music. Thoughtful mothers sent in an over abundance of delicious seasonal refreshments which were served by the hostess and Mrs. Anna Ragosecz. Those who were present and helped to make this party such a success were Ruth Garrity, Grace Bell, Jane McCune, Edith Zeigler, Virginia McKee, Kathryn Tressler, Helen McKee, Grace McEwen, Adalade Dute, Lillian Hemming, Ada Shook, Robert English, Eugene Moffatt, Joseph Serafino, Avery Rigby, Edwin Edmondson, Ernest McMullin.

Mrs. John J. King of Shenango Stop entertained the ladies of the M. C. Mission Circle of the Third United Presbyterian church of New Castle on Monday night. The guests all wore masks and it was a gay Halloween party and a delightful social time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Gill of Shenango Stop entertained last Sunday the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ripper of Evans City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lysle Slater and Frederick, Kenneth and Willis of Gardner and Mrs. Kennehan and children Betty and Billie of New Castle all went to Butler last Saturday to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Schneider. They came back to Gardner Sunday night and Mrs. Kennehan and children stayed with Mrs. Slater until Tuesday.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Van Eman of the old Pittsburgh road and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hogue of Moravia stop all motored to Bethesda, O., to visit the family of Rev. Floyd Childs, who left New Castle recently. They stayed until Sunday night, and found the Childs family well and happy in their new work.

18-Day Diet Unscientific, Says Doctor

Quick Reducing Cures Only
Gaudy Hope, Unpractical

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The popular reduction cure at present is the 18-day diet. In my opinion it is thoroughly unscientific. The very name, indicating that the reduction is to be completed in a short time, gives the whole thing away. It is a gaudy promise, opening a magic vista to the poor overweight who wants to become slender right away.

Another objection to it is that it is too vigorous.

The most important thing to take into account about reduction cures is poor, weak, fallible human nature. Overweights get hungry and thirsty. When they are asked to work at a diet which makes them acutely uncomfortable they fail and revert to their regular meals, in goodly numbers. They fall off the 18-day diet almost according to schedule. If they are just a little bit overweight they fall off on the third to fifth day. If they are 30 pounds overweight they fall off on the 10th day. If they are really serious, and reduction is imperative, they go to the 18th day. Then they fall to with a cheer, and eat enough in three days to undo all the good done in the last six of the diet.

That, at least, has been my experience in watching them.

Successful reducing must be planned to give the dieter as little discomfort as possible. It must be planned to continue indefinitely. The constitutional tendency of overweight people is to store fat so rapidly that lapses in diet result immediately in undoing the labor of days. Successful reduction cures depend far more on the organization of the dieter's household, the general planning of habits, the mental attitude of the patient, than they do on the articles or even the amount of food eaten.

Dr. William Osler used to say that getting well of tuberculosis depends more on what you have in your head than what you have in your chest. The same idea holds true for the diabetic, the overweight person, the patient with heart disease, and the patient with ulcer of the stomach.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
P. S. Q. Elmira, N. Y.: "How can I calculate what my weight ought to be?"

Dr. Peters has a clever formula for this. It is as follows: "Rule to find ideal adult net weight."

"Multiply number of inches over 5 feet in height by 5½; add 11. For example: Height, 5 feet 7 inches—7 times 5½ equals 38½; add 11, gives 49½, ideal weight."

"If under five feet multiply number of inches under 5 feet by 5½ and subtract from 110."

From "Diet and Health, With a Key to the Calories," by Lulu Hunt Peters, M. D.

Moon Is Pumice Stone Astronomers Deduce

By LYLE ABBOTT
International News Service Special
Correspondent

MOUNT WILSON OBSERVATORY, Cal., Oct. 30.—The moon is made of pumice stone, a substance familiar on earth and useful as a cleanser.

That was the preliminary deduction today of astronomers of the American Moon committee, who are concluding the first of a series of moon studies here.

Since the moon was first recognized by dawn men as an ornament of the night, the only other theory of its composition has been that the moon was made of green cheese.

The pumice stone theory is based on reflection tests said Dr. Fred E. Wright, assistant director of the geophysical laboratory at Washington, D. C., and chairman of the Moon Committee.

As in the case of most other astronomical studies rays of light are the messengers which bring facts from the heavenly bodies and scientists spend their time interpreting those messages.

Sunlight, reflected from the moon was put through a polarizing instrument. Polarized light furnishes the fundamental tests of the quality of sugar in the sweets factories of the world.

Polarized moonlight and similar light from pieces of pumice showed Dr. Wright such similarity that the committee is almost ready to declare for pumice as the principal ingredient of the moon.

Pistols Are Still Used To Invoke Unwritten Law

By ALFRED T. NEWBERRY
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Folks still use pistols to invoke the so-called unwritten law; to protect their homes and avenge their jealousy.

Two cases in which married persons reached for a pistol instead of a divorce court application occurred here within four days.

One was a mother of ten who fatally shot the other woman" but did not harm her husband.

The other was an irate husband who shot the third member of an alleged love triangle but permitted his wife to escape his pistol fire unscathed.

Both shootings were staged to spectacular settings. The wife shot her rival in front of her home; the husband fired bullets into his rival as he sat beside his wife in a downtown motion picture theatre.

In each case the victim was taken by surprise.

Mrs. Lulu May Gamble, 45, of La Plata, Md., is held on a charge of killing Mrs. Elsie Davis, 22. Her husband, seven years her junior and a prosperous keeper of bees in the nearby Maryland community, is the state's chief witness. It was his testimony that canceled her bail and sent her behind the bars to await grand jury action. He also told her he would not help to pay for her legal defense.

Mrs. Gamble, police said, admitted she fired the shot that caused Mrs. Davis' death but maintained she fired only to "frighten her." She had warned the younger woman to "leave her husband alone" many times, she said. At 3 a. m. Sept. 19 she heard a machine stop in front of her house. She looked out and saw it was that of her husband. He sat inside talking to Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Gamble, with two of her young sons, went to the porch, and fired the pistol in the general direction of the automobile. The bullet struck Mrs. Davis in the head. She died a few days later without regaining consciousness. Davis' husband, is serving sentence with a

Virginia road gang for violating the prohibition laws.

Thousands of persons, all absorbed in a motion picture "talkie" heard the shot that was fired into the body of Sylvester Forwald, 39, in the Earl Theatre, Sept. 22. Packer Bowie 47 is being held for the shooting. Police said Mrs. Bowie was sitting beside Forwald when her husband singled him out in the crowded theatre.

Forwald is in a critical condition but physicians believe he may recover.

Mrs. Glosner Offers To Personally Collect Donations From Walmo

Mrs. G. D. Glosner, who has been appointed to take charge of the food donations to the Jameson hospital, coming from the Walmo district on Friday and Saturday Fruit and Vegetable Days, writes to The News this morning offering to collect any donations, large or small, that people of the Walmo district and Shenango United Presbyterian church wish to contribute.

Mrs. Glosner urges everyone in that district and everyone in New Castle and all Lawrence county to give something on the Donation Days—a glass of jelly, canned goods, preserves, fruits or vegetables, to help in this worthy cause.

In her letter she says: Mr. F. L. Rentz, President, Jameson Memorial Hospital.

In reply to your call for aid, of October 27-30 for the Jameson hospital, in The New Castle News, as I have been appointed to care for Shenango U. P. church and Walmo and for that cause I will gladly accept. I will say we as people of New Castle, should be proud of an institution of this kind and the advantages this beautiful institution has.

I have had much experience in hospitals and I have never had any complaints as to service, etc. We may not all think the same of hospitals for I hear complaints of some but in many instances it would be one that has but little at home and in hospitals two nurses could not accommodate them.

Would kindly ask all concerned to call me no matter how great or small your donations may be and I shall collect same and deliver to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Friday and Saturday call 8109R4. MRS. G. D. GLOSNER, R. D. 3, City.

In America At Last! SYKODONER COMING!

People So Astonished They Cry With Joy! Sick Folks Burst Into Song As Overcome With Hysterical Happiness! Startled Friends Offer Warmest Congratulations!

How Does The New Sykodoner Work Such Modern Miracles!

No great event, monstrous celebration or big festivities in this town's history will compare with what is coming!

A grand and glorious health celebration is on the way here—the happiest event this town has ever seen in all its history! Sick, nervous, ailing people—pain-wracked, distressed, discouraged folks from near and far—come and see with your own eyes what Sykodoner does for others and what it can do for you, and why, we hope, no sick man or woman in this town or vicinity need be sick much longer.

And if ever you have read great and glorious testimony, eager praise and profound gratitude of thousands of sick people made well, you are going to see it and hear it soon.

The Sykodoner Representatives plant health and happiness in their pathway wherever they go. Their staunch friends are legion. To know them, to see them, to hear them—to learn what Sykodoner means for you—is like finding the Fountain of Eternal Youth, the well springs of buoyant health—an ecstasy of new energy, calm nerves and sound, sweet sleep—bringing fresh ambition and cheerier hopes and plans with the dawn of each new day!

Sykodoner thrills and delights you as it convinces you. For you have at last found something before which your ailment must, undoubtedly, give in and disappear. And so a new happiness wells up in your heart and you will forever thank the day you read this advertisement and made up your mind to see Sykodoner and learn all about it, no matter what other important matters seem to stand in your way. Remember the Sykodoner representatives will only be at your hotel one day, as they owe it to ailing and sick people in other towns to carry the glad relief to them, to bring them the same opportunity to be free from suffering.

You want to be well. Of course you do. You want to enjoy all the things you see others enjoy. You refuse to live any longer in a Prison of Pain! You are too wise to believe that nothing can help you. This is a day of new miracles, new discoveries, daring inventions for the benefit of all humanity—where things that were impossible yesterday are accomplished today.

And thus Sykodoner comes to town as a new benefactor for all its citizens. And every man and woman who puts skepticism and doubt and fear aside and comes with an open mind to see and hear about Sykodoner will not come in vain, but will soon be thankful that they decided to investigate fully.

New Cuban Divorce Laws Lure American Couples

(International News Service)
HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 30.—The "world's most liberal divorce law" enacted by the Cuban Congress last February and which has since prompted a small American boom, may be made even more inviting to the unhappily wedded if the Colegio de Abogados (Bar Association) succeeds in persuading President Machado to recommend another slight alteration in the code. Announcement of the plan for making the law even more flexible was made by Dr. Mario Pont, a leading Havana attorney and member of the Colegio who said that he will lead a delegation of English-speaking lawyers here who will ask the President to permit foreign petitioners to wind up their entire divorce business in about 10 days instead of the usual two or three weeks now necessary.

This would mean that divorce seeking Americans could conclude their preliminary application in the time ordinarily required for a vacation, considering the time necessary to reach Cuba from America. Since the law requires petitioners to present only a marriage certificate and the delegation of power of attorney to legal counsel, divorce in Cuba becomes the simplest procedure anywhere in the world, Dr. Pont pointed out.

The new law, with its 16 grounds makes legal separation here as easy to execute as marriage and since the announcement of its passage was made in America, the Cuban Embassy at Washington and Cuban consuls throughout the United States have been deluged with requests for more specific information as to how Americans can make application for divorce here. Inability of the Cuban diplomatic corps to provide the needed information has prompted the Colegio to establish a bureau of information for foreigners, relieving the Embassy of the responsibility. Mean time, the attorneys have appointed a committee of lawyers to define the ways and means of inducing the State Department here to instruct Cuban consuls and embassies in the workings of the new and somewhat radical code.

The new law in Cuba's second dealing with divorce. The first one, passed by Congress on November 5, hardly allowed Cubans legal separation. In cases where decrees were actually granted, second marriage was forbidden. Actually it amounted to nothing more than separation such as is granted by churches for at that time in Cuba there was no sharp line drawn between Church and State.

This distinction now, however, is strikingly apparent for the other extreme is the rule rather than the exception. Marriages here must be performed by civil authorities before the religious ceremony is recognized and the new divorce law amply demonstrates that Cuba does not regard a mere separation as sufficient for incompatibles.

Second marriage is not banned today. A year after the divorce is granted marriage is allowed. Before that time marriage may be performed if the principals are given a Presidential dispensation which lawyers here say is a mere formality and easily obtainable. Three particular phases of Cuba's divorce law seem to have greatly excited Americans particularly New Yorkers whose state makes divorce as a rule, an unpleasant and scandalous procedure. These are the failure of the law to demand legal residence in Cuba, only the intention to establish this being necessary; the failure to demand widespread publication of the action, this being confined to the Spanish language "Gaceta Oficial" and the low lawyer's fee which has been placed by many divorce specialists at approximately $300.

Steals 40 Turkeys; Then Returns Them

(International News Service)
IMPERIAL, Calif., Oct. 30.—The motives of a turkey thief who borrowed 40 gobblers from the ranch of Jack Ballantyne and returned them two nights later were still a puzzle today to the constabulary. "It might have been a touch of the sun," the sheriff ventured. "And then again it might have been that he found out how much it costs to feed those 40 gobblers," Ballantyne put in.

Antique Show At Mt. Jackson

An interesting display that was a real education, was the antique show held in the Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church Tuesday, which drew a large crowd including many from nearby surroundings. The people of the church had been working and planning for this display, and it was indeed worth every effort, as the affair was a huge success. Among the many articles that were arranged about the church piers for this excellent exhibition, were lanterns, foot warmers and silver over ninety years old, dishes of unique style, pieces of hard tack from the Spanish American War. A feature that attracted much attention was three Bibles an inch and a half square that were over a 100 years old. They had a wonderful display of quilts that had work on, taking approximately a year to do. One in particular won a silver cup at a State fair, which was three and a half yards square. There were numerous other antiques that were equally as interesting.

All during the afternoon, tea was served, and a dainty buffet lunch planned and served by the appointed committee, was a feature throughout the evening.

HEARING TODAY

New Yorker Donor Of Famous Statue

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 30.—The generosity of an American has recently brought a charming statue of wood to the Louvre Museum. It is the "Rheims Angel" dating from the 13th century and represents one of the best examples of sculpture of that period. In spite of its great age, the features of the face are very well preserved and the smile which is very similar to the one of the famous Angel of Rheims, is extremely sweet and spiritual. Mr. Arthur Sachs, New York banker is the donor of the statue.

WHO ARE THE CANDIDATES?

From the tone of recent advertisements concerning John M. Hemphill, the hybrid liberal Democratic candidate for Governor, you might be led to believe that he was a man of outstanding qualifications.

Who is he? What do you know of him? What has he done? What is his program if he is elected?

Have There Been Any Satisfactory Answers to These Questions?

All of these things you have a right to know. Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, Democratic leader, says: "I have been the Democratic nominee for Governor twice and the Democratic nominee for Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania but up until Hemphill was nominated for Governor I never heard of him, although he lives in the same community where I live."

You have been told that Gifford Pinchot is not a real Republican, that he is not a resident of Pennsylvania and other similar mis-statements.

Isn't it sufficient that our candidate, Gifford Pinchot, was nominated for Governor on the Republican ticket eight years ago and was elected in the fall by the largest majority that a Governor had ever received in Pennsylvania up to that time, that he served four years as Governor of this Commonwealth, that he has again been nominated by the Republicans of Pennsylvania, and yet these alleged regular Republicans, now supporting Hemphill the Democrat, criticize his Republicanism.

Gifford Pinchot is a Pennsylvania. Not only does he reside in this state but he resides in the home his father built and occupied in Pike County.

Isn't it rather ridiculous for some so-called regular Republicans to now be in the position of asking you to vote for a Democrat? Is this regularity, consistency or good sense or rather is it a smoke screen to cover up their real selfish motives. Vote the straight Republican ticket on November 4th.

After November 3, persons crossing the international boundary, at Detroit, to Windsor, Ontario, will have the option of going over, under, or through the Detroit river, to Canada. A new mile-long tunnel, with its 22-foot roadway, has just been completed, and is the first of its kind to connect two nations. For the last century ferry service across the river has been available and, last year, the Ambassador bridge was completed. Photos show, top, view of the tunnel near the American end; lower left, switchboard regulating lighting and ventilation. This machine at Syracuse, N. Y., is being operated by two men to plant trees at the rate of about 10 acres a day, the trees being planted six feet apart. Two rows are laid down simultaneously, the hole being dug and the soil

COAT LENGTH, HEMLINE DISCUSSION IS SPIRITED

The old sartorial argument between coat lengths and hemlines continues to be as spirited as ever, declares Lucien Lelong. Many of his daytime coats fall to the hem of the skirt. Usually they are belted at the natural waistline. Three-quarter coats are belted for sports but beltless and draped for formal wear. The length of his coats are also modified by the flare of the skirt. In formal ensembles Lelong's skirts vary between the ankles and the floor, while the accompanying wraps may be three-quarters, half length or frankly short. Three of his models are sketched.

Deer Hunters Have Thrilling Stories To Tell

Open Season In Colorado Gives Deer Hunters Choice To Display Skill

(International News Service)
DENVER, Oct. 30.—The four-day open season on deer in Colorado brought many hunters into this city with proof of their skill prominently displayed on their automobile fenders.

"Had a hard time getting this baby," remarked one of the sportsmen. "He was a smart one all right. I was riding along against the wind when I spotted him."

"He spotted me, too. And how that buck did run for cover! He got in a clump of spruce. Then hear him whistling and stomping around, but I couldn't see him. So I picked up a stone and threw it. Well, it hit that deer and scared him so he jumped right out in the open and I plucked him under the shoulder."

Another hunter told how he watched the runways and salt licks for two days, then suddenly came face to face with a big buck. "I was stiff and sore," he said, "so I couldn't move very fast. But I kept my head. I remembered that you can hypnotize an animal by looking into its eyes. That deer didn't budge until I dropped it with my rifle."

Cars with four, five and six point bucks slung across their radiators were common sights on the streets of Denver. Each hunter had his big story of how he brought down the season's most elusive buck.

There is another story which hunters were not so eager to tell, but which has been going the rounds since the close of the season.

This story has to do with a kindly, bespectacled old lady who lives on an isolated ranch in the region of Como and Fairplay, Colo.

Perhaps this story has some bearing on some of the deer hunting stories which were being told by eager hunters during the season.

This kindly old lady operates a deer ranch. Snuggled away in the shadow of the surrounding hills her ranch is a haven for hungry deer throughout the year.

The eager hunter, failing in his attempts to bag the elusive buck, through his own efforts or perhaps just naturally too lazy to go out and get one, calls on the kindly old lady. For a consideration—50 a pound—she agrees to produce the desired game. Then, while the intrepid hunter sights down the barrel of his trusty muzzle-loader, she "shoots" the deer around where he can hit it.

Some of the largest bucks of the season are said to have been killed in the old lady's pasture. During the 90-mile drive into Denver from Fairplay some of the hunters had forgotten the details of their success and replaced them with more alluring tales.

Aged Civil War Enemies Have Strange Meeting

Old Vets Meet In Auto Journey Enroute From Mercer To Pittsburgh

Two old Civil War veterans, enemies in the days of '61 and '65, held a strange reunion yesterday morning, meeting under most peculiar circumstances.

"Mel" Miller, aged 82, of Mercer, who enlisted in the Union army at the age of 14, and who served in the naval forces for several months.

until his tender age was discovered, told of the meeting while attending the Consistory reunion here yesterday.

Mr. Miller happened to mention to Deputy Sheriff John Thomas of Mercer that he was coming down to New Castle to attend the reunion yesterday, and Thomas invited him to ride along to Pittsburgh with several prisoners he was taking to the Western Penitentiary, offering to drop him off on his way back. As they were making an early start, he consented.

Mr. Miller noticed an old fellow about his own age in the rear seat of the car, but was too courteous to inquire about him not knowing whether he was a prisoner, or a friend of the deputy. When they had almost reached Pittsburgh the two became engaged in conversation and it developed that Mr. Miller's companion on this ride was an old Confederate veteran, by the name of Breckenridge, who was related to John C. Breckenridge, vice president under Franklin Pierce in 1853.

The old Confederate, 91 years of age had become stranded in Canada and had managed to make his way to Mercer by rides picked up along the way, and was then enroute to the home of a daughter living near Carnegie, Pa.

He had spent the night as the guest of Sheriff Callahan of Mercer County, who offered to take him to his destination.

"JUST AS WELL, I THINK," said the man on the stage, "will call out the name of some female character in Shakespeare I will portray that character."

"Florence Nightengale" came a shout.

"I said Shakespeare, sir. I am not familiar with Dickens."—Brooklyn Eagle.

WHERE IS OLD HALLOWE'EN?

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—The writer had an interesting conversation with an elderly matron regarding the present Halloween fashions. "They've changed like the skirts" she reminisced. "When I was young we used to gather in the neighbors, bring up a large tub from the laundry and fill it with apples. It was great sport to duck for the bobbing red globes. Then we always walked down the cellar stairs backwards with a candle in one hand and a mirror in the other, expecting to see our future husband, if any, reflected in the looking glass. And of course we never missed peeling an apple all in one peel and throwing it over our left shoulder to see if it formed an initial."

I cannot understand what fun the present generation gets out of Halloween when they don't do any of the old fashioned tricks of entertainment. We used to pass around the insides of concord grapes in the dark and proclaim that they were Grandpa's eyeballs. And it was nothing to be greeted at the door by a ghost who thrust out a clammy rubber glove filled with cracked ice. They used cracked ice nowadays at the parties, but not in a rubber glove. And the lunch, my dear—no pumpkin pie smothered in rich whipped cream for us—we had the good old cider and doughnuts—SWEET cider that was made by friends on the neighboring farms. Of course we played pranks out of doors, such as tick-tacking on the windows, soap, etc., but as for letting the air out of automobile tires, we wouldn't have done it even if autos had been plentiful in those days. If the young things of today only realized how much good clean fun there is in the old fashioned Halloween games, they would start in tonight.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—All may not be gold that glitters but the big round pieces found by Mr. Jean Perochas and his little son while out on a Sunday stroll in the Bois de Boulogne really were. Digging around with his little shovel the boy came upon a gold "Louis", stamped with the effigy of Louis XVI. He called to his father who decided to dig for more and found at least seventy-five of the same sort. Honest man that he is, Monsieur Perochas immediately carried his fortune to the police station where he will claim it after one year if the owner does not turn up.

REASONS WHY

Some of the reasons why so many Republicans are opposed to the election of Pinchot for governor and why Committees of Republicans have been organized in many counties of the state to advocate the election of Hemphill:—

While Governor, Pinchot curtailed Hospital Appropriations and handled those made in a way to alienate the support of many good citizens interested in that humane service.

While governor, he interfered with the organization and operation of the Public School system in a way that brought censure from the National Council of Education.

While governor, he precipitated a controversy with the State Game Commission, which has not been forgotten by sportsmen and lovers of wild life.

While governor, Pinchot vetoed legislation advocated by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and passed by the Legislature. The President of the Federation during Pinchot's administration says, "When Grundy used his cohorts to report Pinchot's Pet Dry Measures, Pinchot became a Gibraltar on which every proposed labor bill broke".

While governor, he basely betrayed labor by opposing amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, which would have increased compensation to injured employes and the dependents of those who had lost their lives in industry.

While governor, Pinchot vetoed two bills passed by the Legislature appropriating funds for the development of the Pymatuning Dam Project. This veto was an Executive act which directly affected the industrial life of this community.

The Hemphill Republican Committee asks your support of all other candidates on the Republican ticket.

34. Daniel Boone—Incidents Of The Siege

LACK FISH AND DUQUESNE TRIED EVERY TRICK THEY KNEW TO DESTROY BOONESBOROUGH. NIGHT AND DAY THE INDIANS SHOWERED THE CABINS WITH FLAMING ARROWS, BUT THE WATCHFUL DEFENDERS PUT OUT THE FIRES BEFORE THEY COULD SPREAD.

THE BESIEGERS ALSO ATTEMPTED TO GAIN ENTRANCE TO THE FORT BY DIGGING A TUNNEL UNDER THE STOCKADE. THIS, TOO, WAS THWARTED BY THE VIGILANCE OF THE DEFENDERS.

Confidence Men Given Surprise By Their Victim

Proposed Victim For Fleecing Makes Merry At Their Expense

(International News Service) LONDON, Oct. 30.—Two affable confidence tricksters are probably wondering why, in a city with millions of people, they should pick on L. W. Driffeld, a Sydney (Australian) cartoonist on a visit to the English capital.

It happened this way: Driffeld was invited to have a drink in the lounge of a Piccadilly hotel by two strangers standing at his elbow. In the course of conversation the strangers mentioned they had just come from Australia where they had found a fabulously rich vein of tin on a sheep property called Gulargambone, in New South Wales.

Driffeld began to sit up and take notice. Especially when they explained to him that it was hardly even necessary to sink a shaft to get the tin out; in fact, it was lying all over the surface.

With a certain eagerness he accepted the invitation to meet at luncheon which was to make him a multi-millionaire in five years. It was a champagne luncheon, and no expense was spared. It was only when the papers were produced for him to sign that Driffeld felt called upon to mention casually that he knew a little about Gulargambone. In fact, he revealed his uncle owned the very place they were trying to sell to him.

He left the baffled company promoters staring at a mighty luncheon bill for eight.

Had To Pull Own Teeth; Is Divorced

(International News Service) DENVER, Oct. 30.—While Otto C. Baumbach rode around in one of his six automobiles or listened to one of his many radios his wife, Eleanor, was busy cutting her own hair and pulling her own teeth, according to the story she told District Judge Charles C. Sackmann.

Mrs. Baumbach, suing for a divorce, said Baumbach spent all his money on automobiles and radios. He had none left for his wife. If she wanted a haircut she had to cut it herself.

The matter really didn't become annoying until Mrs. Baumbach wanted a tooth pulled. When she had to perform this operation herself she sought relief in the divorce court.

She got the divorce.

Collegians To Invade New Castle Saturday

Providing the weather is nice, with a lot of sunshine and everything that goes to make up good weather the collegiate crowd here for the game should number into the hundreds. Thiel will send a big delegation, while the Presidents will be well supported by the student body of the school.

There are perhaps over a hundred W. & J. alumni here in New Castle who are vitally interested in the football venture which brings their alma mater to Lawrence county's metropolis.

Cuticura Healed Terrible Itching Burning Scalp. Almost Bald.

"My trouble started with a terrible itching and burning of the scalp. Later it broke out with a lot of little pimples, and when I rubbed and scratched them it caused a great deal of inflammation. I could not sleep and the trouble made me very miserable. My hair fell out so that my scalp was bald in some places. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, with the Cuticura Soap, I was healed." (Signed, Mrs. H. C. Smith, 2130 Manton St., Phila., Pa., March 19, 1930.)

Hunters Must Forego Smoking In Woods

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Pennsylvania hunters will have to forego smoking when they take to the woods to hunt small game during the season opening Saturday.

In a proclamation made public Gov. John S. Fisher set at rest the minds of those who feared forests might be closed to nimrods because of the hazard of forest fires caused by the prolonged drought, but at the same time he banned "smoking of tobacco in any form and the building of campfires within woodlands or burning of brush within woodlands or within 200 feet of woodlands by all persons engaged in hunting."

The Governor's proclamation was prepared and issued after the chief executive had held a long conference with the Board of Game Commissioners and representatives of the Department of Forests and Waters.

Both the commissioners and members of the forest department told the governor it was unnecessary to close forests of the state to hunters providing the smoking restriction was made.

Under terms of the proclamation, a $100 fine will be imposed for each violation of the no-smoking rule.

In a statement supplementary to Gov. Fisher's proclamation, the Game Commission said:

"Employees of all branches of the state government who are vested with police power will cooperate in enforcement. Under the proclamation, all forms of smoking in the forests, whether on roads or trails, is prohibited. It is, however, permissible to smoke in camp."

Recent rains and snows in many sections of the state and the information that most hunters are careful with fire in the woods were powerful factors in deciding against the more rigorous decision of banning all gunning in dry forest areas."

In issuing his proclamation, Gov. Fisher acted under authority conferred by the Legislature in 1925. In 1926, Gov. Gifford Pinchot invoked the law to close several counties to deer hunting when danger of forest fires was considered great.

Sophie was spending the weekend at the Mountbatten Mause when the rumor reached her. A strange light filled her eyes. Hastily summoning the Mountbatten butler, "Meadows" by name, she fired a cable to Paula Gould, her female Boswell in New York, instructing Paula to sock all such rumors in the midriff and otherwise render them null and void.

Pheasants At Game Farm Are Happy—Have No Fear Of Being On Dinner Tables

Two thousand five hundred pheasants will not jump to the tune of exploding shells next Saturday nor anytime during the hunting season, for they are on the right side of the Jordan State Game Farm fence!

During the height of winter, when snow will cover the grounds, these birds will pack away at the snow, romp and scoot playfully around to and fro and in absolute safety, for these lucky birds are being kept for breeding purposes.

While several thousand of their little brothers and sisters are being hunted by sportsmen all over Pennsylvania, the ringnecks at the Jordan propagation farm will eat, sleep and run with safety.

As for the cold weather—they like it.

"I will pile up some brush in the corners of each pen later on. There already are wind shelters in the pens, and with the brush the pheasants will have plenty of protection from intensely cold winds. The ringnecks like winter weather and are more healthy than in summer," H. J. Sines, keeper of the farm, remarked the other day.

There seems to be a certain cheerfulness among the ringnecks as they parade around the grounds. There seems to be a bit of a smile on their faces and they seem to even wink occasionally, as if they know that the hunters' shot won't get them, this year at least!

Now that Washington hop raisers have joined the vineyard interests in demanding modification or repeal of the state bone dry law, it is about time the hard cider contingent spoke up.—The Seattle Times.

HOME ATTENDANCE STAYS AT NORMAL

Eighty-Five Persons Now Being Kept By County, Poor Director Says

County Poor Director M. B. Hogue, in charge of the county's charitable work, termed attendance at the Lawrence county home on the Ellwood City road normal, when asked today whether or not conditions had boosted the number of applications for admittance.

"We're running along at normal, hoping the weather continues this way," Mr. Hogue explained. "As long as the cold weather keeps off, the attendance will stay down. Conditions right now are not forcing many to seek help there."

According to Director Hogue a total of 85 persons are now being kept, 80 being the number of inmates confined during the same period last year. The capacity of the home is 115, but in emergency cases 200 could be cared for.

Bo Broadway

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Second Avenue boasts a pawn shop with a window display of war medals—scores of them, left there in the last ten years by heroes in quest of hash.

Speaking of hash: In "The Gun Club Book," by old Doc Browne, the bon vivant writes:

"The hash of the boarding house brought all the hashes into disrepute."

What do you mean by that, Doc? Hash hasn't been in disrepute for more than thirty years—since the days of the old New York Sun—when one of the geniuses in the editorial sanctum of the dinky, red-brick office on Park Row, took a half-nelson on his stylus, and with the angel wings of inspiration brushing his brow, wrote thus:

"Who can give to hash the multifarious praise or justice its myriad-sided virtues merit? Hash is the fifth element, the grand secret of the alchemy of the kitchen. It is the true democratic, liberal, all-containing, composite, miscellaneous dish... Hash is a masterpiece of creative art. Hash is the one and only, all-pervading, self-governing, independent, free, and equal American dish... It takes all other foods in its all-embracing arms. It is the generic name of food... Democracy drips from that chunky and admirable word 'hash'... Hash cheered the insides of pioneers. Hash marched or sailed in prairie schooners to the Pacific. Hash made the bone and muscle and brain of innumerable Americans. Hash, composed of everything, entered into the composite of all our men of energy. Mad Anthony Wayne, Israel Putnam, Andrew Jackson, George Rogers Clark, ate hash. Good hash makes a good man... Hash kills off the weaklings and fits the fittest for their careers. Hash is a duty when it is not a pleasure. Never forget that hash is the food of heroes. Cheap snobs who turn up their noses at honest friend Hash will be suitably cut up and browned for their sin in a region where trying 'on the grid' is a specialty."

REVIVES MEMORIES.

The distance from Hash to Beans isn't a big enough stride to bust the blasting threads in the old overalls. And when you mention Beans to the initiated in Tammany Town at once there looms on the outskirts of memory a crazy little cellar salon in the environs of Park Row where, for two generations, the mighty and the mean, the Has-Beens, The-Going-To-Be's, The Ne'er-Was's and Those-That-Are, have partaken of leguminous sustenance.

The bean-soucers there have their sleeves rolled up and walk defiantly, with the port of sovereigns. And if you want to realize the magnificent depths of which scorn is capable ask one of them for a saucer in which to rest your inch-thick, pound-and-a-half coffee cup. In years gone by there used to repose a sign on the walls of this old beanery to the effect that:

"One Time A Man Came In Here And Asked For A Napkin."

ROCHESTER MEETS NEW CASTLE HERE FRIDAY

BOTH TEAMS HAVE GOOD GRID RECORDS

Rochester Is Bringing Good Team To Meet New Castle Warriors

New Castle Will Probably Start With Lineup Which Opposed Washington

Two teams in possession of good grid records, eleven which have caused their opponents much trouble this season will meet on Friday night at Taggart Field, when New Castle high school meets Rochester High. The game is scheduled to start at 8:00 o'clock.

Rochester After Victory
Rochester wants a victory over the New Castle team according to reports and for this reason has been training diligently so that their griders will be in the best condition of the season for the first contest against New Castle. Rochester held a special practice session here on Tuesday night under the floodlights.

The valley team is the first to come here three nights before a contest to train. This goes to show that the valley eleven is eager to set back the local high boys. Rochester this season has made a good record. To date Beaver Falls has been the only eleven able to defeat Rochester. In 1929 Rochester ascended to its football heights by finishing the season undefeated.

For this reason Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner signer the Rochesterites, who promise to put up a bitter struggle against the senior high boys. This game may have an important bearing on the W. P. I. A. L. league yet. Should Washington be defeated by Turtle Creek or Har-Brack it would place New Castle in the race again. And to be in the race here's one opponent which the New Castle boys would have to setback.

Coach Taylor stated this morning that his boys are rounding into good condition for this contest. He also stated that a big delegation of fans will follow the team here.

The game is one which is being played on an unusual date. Halloween occurs on Friday night. Never before has a contest been played here on Halloween night or afternoon. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner stated today that the game will be played at 8:00 unless a last minute change is made.

New Castle continues to train for this game following the hard struggle with Washington last Saturday. Most of the boys came through in fine shape. DeCarbo and Hoose who sustained minor injuries are again in condition to resume play. The New Castle lineup will probably be the same as that which opposed Washington. Ciccone and Jameson will be ends; Crick and Askounes at tackles; DeCarbo and Mike at guards; Hoose at center; Captain McAuley at quarterback; Lasky and Sotus at halfback; and Thomas at fullback.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner stated today that plans are being made to take care of a large crowd on Friday night. Rochester will come here with over 1,000 followers.

Cruel and unusual punishment is unlawful, yet poor burglars are forced to associate with uplifters who had charge of the funds.

"Bayuk Philadelphia Cigars"—like all good things—are imitated. But you can be sure of getting the cigar you want by asking for "Bayuk Phillies"—and seeing that the name "Bayuk" is on the label.

"B.P." means Bayuk Phillies—to avoid imitation insist on the name Bayuk.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Display of motion pictures following football games is criticised in the East and is termed one of the most unfortunate developments of the current developments of the football season. The criticism comes as a result of the picture display which Yale men claim showed unnecessary rough work by the Army in the play that incapacitated Albie Booth and that the movies also showed Army's lone touchdown to have been scored illegally. Paul Gallico in the New York Daily News terms this display "Camera sportsmanship."

Echoes of the first Dempsey-Tunney fight at Philadelphia were heard in supreme court, New York yesterday when Tom Mara's suit against Gene Tunney and Billy Gibson for $400,000, came up for trial before Judge Hatting. A jury was obtained and the case adjourned until today. Mara is asking for the money based on a verbal contract and also one signed by Tunney. The retired champion said his signature was secured under duress. Mara claimed he cooperated with Tunney in bringing about his fight for the championship.

Emmett Rocco, heavyweight who recently defeated Tom Heeney and knocked out George Panka at Pittsburgh passed through New Castle enroute from Youngstown to Ellwood City last night. He stopped over and while loitering in a local hotel was an interested figure in a fanning meet. Some of the fans went back to the days when Al Herford found the late Joe Gans opening oysters and tucked him into one of the smoothest pieces of fighting flesh the world has ever known. Al Zili, manager of Rocco, was also in the party. He plans to start promoting boxing in Youngstown next month.

Geneva Runners Beat Westminster

Cross-Country Championship Is Taken By Geneva—Smalley Is First

(Special)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 30.—Geneva College claims the Tri-State Conference cross country championship this fall by virtue of defeating Westminster College in a close five and three-quarter mile race Wednesday afternoon at New Wilmington.

Running over the Fayette course, the Covenanters edged out the Titans by a 25-30 score when Captain Elmer Myers of the Westminster team finished twelfth rather than among the first six as predicted. Myers was off form from the beginning of the race as he was last Saturday when Westminster lost to Carnegie Tech by a low score.

James Smalley, Elizabeth flash running for Westminster, took individual honors by negotiating the course first in 30 minutes and 16 seconds. Richard Donahut, Geneva, and Hugh Hunter, Geneva, were second and third respectively, covering the course in 30 minutes and 30 seconds and 31 minutes and seven seconds. Tom Coles, Westminster freshman, was fourth in 31 minutes and 4 seconds.

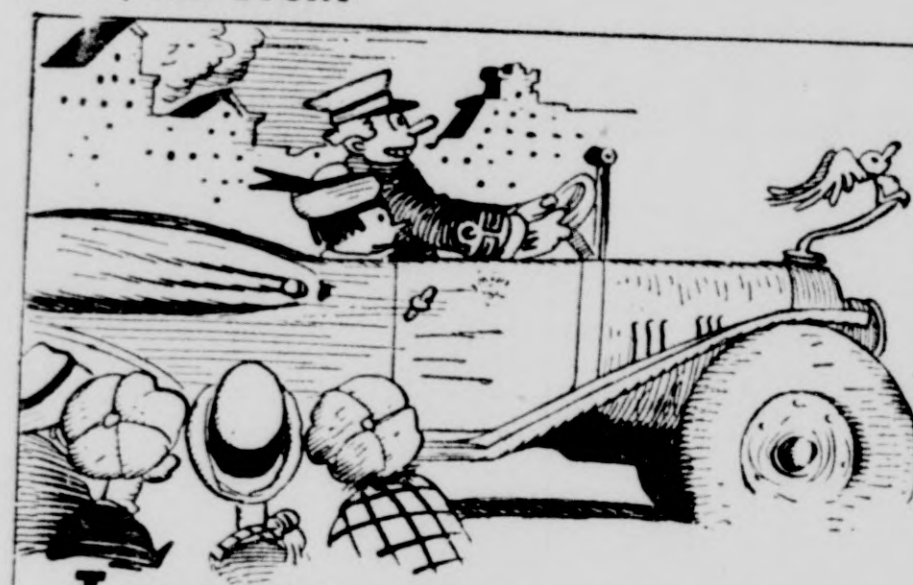

Fifth place went to Paul Wilson, Geneva; sixth to Robert Wallace, Westminster; seventh to Captain Frank Reiser, Geneva; eighth to Edward Ingelfield, Geneva; ninth to Harold Burton, Westminster; tenth to Lorenz Stocker, Westminster; and eleventh to Harrison Kennedy, Westminster.

Herald Post, Harry Madducks, William Byers, John Eagleson, James Stewart, Louis Perensy, and Kenneth Miller acted as judges and checkers for the race.

Great Array Of Ball Carriers On 1930 Teams

Albie Booth, Yale Star, Approaches Greatness Of "Red" Grange

ALL-AMERICAN PICKING EASY

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Perhaps not since the gold-glided days of the Galloping Ghost of Illinois, Red Grange, has there been spread under the campus canopy such a galaxy of great ball carriers during this 1930 football season.

Albie Booth of Yale, "Jack the Ripper" Roberts of Georgia, Jim Bausch of Kansas, Hank Bruder of Northwestern, Johnny Sisk of Kentucky, "Shipwreck" Kelly of Kentucky, Joe Savoldi of Notre Dame and Harry Newman, Michigan are among the outstanding eliminators of space as football turns the corner this Saturday for the home stretch.

Booth Is Good
Comparisons have the same odium as onions in ice cream but one can't help registering that Booth alone approaches Grange and even color that made the Wheaton, Illinois youth sure fire in catching the nation's fancy. In the first place Booth isn't a college ice man, a qualification that had a ringing appeal for Grange.

Many critics of Booth point out that if he were playing with a small school such as Williams in the East or Pomona on the West Coast he wouldn't be rated at all. Quite so, but that's just the point. Men like Booth and Savoldi get the supreme test every Saturday and when they come through against most of the outstanding teams in the country they naturally must rate at the top of the list.

This week-end the East gets a chance to see a highly touted Western back. He is Jim Bausch of Kansas, classed as the best in the West and heralded as one of the best ball carriers ever turned out by the Plains country. Kansas plays Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and the game will be a severe test for Bausch for Penn has moulded rapidly since its defeat by Wisconsin early in the season.

Roberts Leading Scorer
Roberts, called the best back in the South, where there are some mighty power huses this fall, leads the nation's scorers with a total of 72 points. Georgia, too, has met some of the strong teams this season, including Yale, North Carolina and Auburn. Roberts is a versatile threat, hitting the line for gains as well as reeling off sparkling end runs in the fashion of Savoldi.

At Marquette University in Milwaukee they call Sisk the "Big Train." He is a member of Marquette's sensational relay team and has scored touchdowns this fall in record runs of 65, 85 and 88 yards. Kelly of Kentucky is like Sisk and there's potential touchdown every time he gets his hands on the ball. He had the lemon four times in his first varsity game and scored three touchdowns.

Northwestern's star will probably meet up with plenty of opposition this Saturday as the purple engages Minnesota. The Gophers have progressed since their early fall smash down by Vanderbilt. Like Booth, Bruder is as conspicuous as an Albin in Harlem and suffers the same handicap of having every move spotlighted.

Newman is called a second Benny Friedman, one of the game's premier passers. And by the way Friedman, who assisted in coaching at Yale this fall, thinks Booth is fit to rank with the all-time immortals of the gridiron. Friedman says that Booth has that knack of passing a ball with what the former Michigan ace calls the "feather touch." The pass that travels "like a rifle bullet" is rarely used because it is too difficult to catch and Booth, according to Friedman, stars in throwing the ball so it swiftly "floats" into the catcher's hands.

DON'T SPECIFY
"Thanks very much," said the vicar, as little Tommy handed up his offering for the harvest festival; "I must call round this afternoon and thank your mother for these eight beautiful apples." "P-p-lease, sir," stammered Tommy, "would you m-mind thanking her for t-twelve apples?"—Bystander.

Gridiron Gossip

Westminster College football team takes a jaunt down to Huntington on this Saturday to play Juniata College. The Juniata eleven is waiting patiently for the game. They have visions of beating the Titans, but the United Presbyterians have other visions and they are directly opposite from the optical illusions of the Huntingdoners. Coach "Dike" Berde will have his strongest team ready for the battle. The Blue and White clad warriors came out of the Slippery Rock game minus injuries.

Here in New Castle at Taggart Field Saturday afternoon, the W. & J. Presidents are going to show the fans a first-class college team. The opponents will be Thiel, and most worthy foes. This game was made possible when the High School moved ahead their Rochester game to Friday night. The college boys are going to live up to the old town a bit with their hips and hurrahs, and for a time Saturday New Castle will resound with college atmosphere. The game looks like a good one, with the Presidents on the long end, but then again Thiel is coming along fast and they may have a few surprises in store for the boys coached by "Bill" Amos.

That little fuss up in Meadville is a lively one if you like hair-raising football. The Allegheny-Grove City games are always worth the money. You can rest assured of seeing a real battle from the first to last minute. The Alleghenians are undefeated in four games so far this year and they are hankering on the fifth engagement. They can't figure much after the Grove City game because they stack up against Dartmouth and to one would be foolish enough to bet me that Allegheny will beat Dartmouth. Anyhow, this game for Saturday looks like a natural, and the Grove City boys are going to be in there fighting hard.

At Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, Friday night the Geneva team trots into action again, this time taking on Franklin and Marshall. The P. & M. team will come to Beaver Falls to take the measure of the Harpster coached team, but I guess they have been fooled before and they can stand it again. If they defeat Geneva they will have to play a lot of good football, because Geneva is a tough nut to crack.

BOOTH HIT HARD? LOOK AT THIS

These movie excerpts of the Yale-Army football game at New Haven show the play which eliminated Albie Booth, Yale's star back, from the game. Top picture shows Booth (arrow points to him) just as he started to run with ball after intercepting pass from Ken Fields, Army back. Note two Army men rushing at him. Next picture shows Booth (arrow) surrounded. Third picture shows him being brought down. Bottom picture, Booth lies unconscious under this piled-up heap of Army players.

Rockne Against Post Season Go For Irish Team

Knute Rockne Does Not Look Upon Post Season Games As Quite The Thing

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Knute Rockne, coach of the "Fighting Irish," today announced that to matter how his team fares in its remaining 1930 games, the Ramblers will play no post-season games.

Rockne's announcement was prompted by the challenge made yesterday by Major Cavanaugh, Fordham's head coach, in which the Ram mentor issued a defi to the Irish to meet the maroon in a post-season contest, provided both go through the remainder of their 1930 schedules unbeaten.

Willie Davies To Box Archie Bell

Willie Davies and Archie Bell will clash in the main 10 round bout, Monday night at Pittsburgh. Davies will fight at a bantam Bell made Jackie Rodgers look foolish in a Pittsburgh fight last winter. Battling Terry, manager of Frankie Frey refused an offer to let Frey fight Jimmy Behnoot on the same card. Terry will set a chance to send Frey against some other 155 pounder in the near future.

In the varsity's first game with the Alumni men this fall, the graduates won by a 6-0 score. Coach D. M. Boyd's men are seeking vengeance this time.

NO, I'M ALL RIGHT
"You admit that you put a lead nickel into the complainant's cigar vending machine. Don't you know that was cheating?" reported the judge.
"Did you ever smoke one of these cigars, judge?"—Portland Express.

Titans Leave Tomorrow For Game At Huntington, Penna.

Juniata Eleven To Be Met In Homecoming Day Game

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 30.—Eighteen players, student managers, Coach "Dike" Berde, Graduate Manager Andy McDonald, Trainer Jack Hulme, and Publicity Director R. X. Graham will form the Westminster College football party leaving here Friday at noon for Huntington, Pa., where Juniata College will be met Saturday afternoon.

The Westminster group will leave New Wilmington by bus at noon for New Castle. At New Castle Junction the team and officials will board a special car at 12:50 on the Pennsylvania. The team arrives in Pittsburgh at 2:05 and leaves Pittsburgh at 3:20, arriving in Huntington Friday night at 7:30.

Headquarters in Huntington will be at the Hotel Huntington. Here the team will be quartered Friday night and Saturday. The homecoming grid game with the Indians, starting at 2:30 Saturday, will be the sixth of the season for both elevens.

Those who were selected to make the trip are Backs—Shaffer, Harper, Haldy, Hamas, Ketterer, Michaels, Perrin; Linemen—Boone, Cebula, Tweedy, Myler, Yourd, Fuller, Uram, Cleland, Armour, Rehfus, Kozicki, in all probably. Shaffer, Michaels, Hamas and Ketterer will start in the backfield, while Cebula, Tweedy, Boone, Fuller, Uram, Rehfus, and Kozicki will start on the line.

The team will return late Saturday night, arriving in New Castle at 11:15.

FIGHT RESULTS

(International News Service)
AT NEW YORK—Kid Bon Ton, Havana lightweight, knocked out Jimmy Canzoneri, New York (10).
Frankie Martin, Pittsfield, Mass., featherweight, and Jack De Santos, New York, drew (8).
AT KANSAS CITY—Jackie Gibbs, St. Paul middleweight, defeated Charley Arthurs, New York (10).

Bessemer Coach Drilling Line

Coach Fredericks yesterday afternoon sent his Bessemer griders through a strenuous workout giving most of his attention to drilling the line in anticipation of a stiff game with Harrisville at 2:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon at Bessemer. Harrisville defeated New Wilmington by a larger score than was scored by Bessemer and for this reason Fredericks hopes to add greater offense and defense to his team.

W. & J. AND THIEL TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

College Football Machines To Use Taggart Stadium

Coach "Bill" Amos Sends Presidents Through Tough Drills

Thiel Hopes To Make Good
Showing Against Strong
W. & J. Machine

RUSH - HALFBACK

Coach William "Bill" Amos, whose grid prowess once rated him as an All-American at W. & J., is driving his Presidents through a lot of tough workouts this week. The reason for so much exercise is the romp here at Taggart Field Saturday afternoon that the Wash-Jeters have with Thiel College. The kickoff is set for 2:15 o'clock.

New Castle fans and those from the vicinity will have a chance to see a couple of live college outfits prance the greensward of New Castle's quite all right football arena. Several other towns wanted this little party for Saturday, when it was arranged a few weeks ago, but the boys thought that New Castle would be the proper place to stage the college drama, and so it makes two games here for the week. First you see New Castle-Rochester on Friday night, and then come back Saturday and see the college eleven's do their stuff.

The W. & J. team is tickled no doubt over the victory last week 7 to 0 with Lafayette the victims, and Coach Herb McCracken is still angry about this defeat. It was played in Atlantic City and not where nature intended it should either, but inside a nice warm auditorium where you could wear your palm beach suit if you happened to have one. It was the first night-indoor game and drew a fine big crowd. The place was so well filled and the surroundings so nice that the boys almost forgot to play football.

Watch Mr. Rush
But getting back to this game for New Castle, the Presidents will present for your approval Maury Rush. If he has fully recovered from his injuries, and also Stew Wilson, Armstrong, Smith, Purjanic and a lot more steller ball toters who will go places and make yardage like nobody's business. And this W. & J. line with Levine on tackle and Polack on the other tackle, and by the way this last named chap weighs about 200 pounds. Demas and Newby will hold down the guard jobs weighing about 350 pounds to gether.

As for the way W. & J. has acted this year so far they beat Bethany, Westminster, died Wittenberg, lost to Temple and beat Lafayette. Not so bad but not too good either, they should have licked Wittenberg.

Thiel Sets Ready

Now for Thiel's end of the business, the Lutherans have a mighty sweet little team this year. The captain is Frank Leonard, a boy who once wore the raiments of New Castle High and gladdened Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh's heart every time he stepped out on the field. Thiel opened with Temple again this year and held the conquerors of W. & J. to thirteen points. Carnegie Tech beat Thiel but not bad so did Geneva but not bad, and then Thiel beat St. Vincents, but you cannot dope football so don't try. Thiel may upset the Presidents, stranger things have happened.

Coach Rawley is drilling the Lutherans hard this week. He realizes that they are tackling a first-class outfit Saturday and wants to have the boys in the best possible condition.

Wardle is being groomed to do a lot of fancy things here this week. He is the boy who almost gave Geneva heart failure and caused Tech team to lose a lot of sleep. He is a sweet halfback, and will make things interesting for W. & J. and all the little Washingtoners.

Czech Journalist Has Hetic Life

(International News Service)
DENVER, Oct. 30.—Headed for Alaska after more than two years of tramping and hitch-hiking in all parts of the world, Charles Tulka, Prague, Czechoslovakia, newspaper reporter, stopped over night in Denver recently.

He is covering an assignment for a Prague news service, and has been traveling since April, 1928. Tulka told about his travels through snake-infested jungles, and desert sand storms. He said he had been imprisoned in Turkey as a French spy; wounded by bandits in Persia; lost in a sandstorm for three days in Arabia; and had trudged through Mesopotamia with the temperature at about 140 degrees.

Mine "Disaster" Proves To Be "Dud"

(International News Service)
COMO, Colo., Oct. 30.—A rescue squad of forty Como men were sent speeding in automobiles to the King coal mine, four miles from here when reports reached here that several miners had been entombed in a cave-in. The King mine tragedy of 1893 in which 25 lives were lost filled the minds of the rescuers as they sped toward the mine. At that time the lives of 31 Chinese laborers and four white bosses were snuffed out in a mine explosion and fire. Dr. Frank Dunkle of Fairplay, the nearest physician received word of the "disaster" and arrived almost as soon as the rescue party. Arriving at the mine, the rescuers found the miners calmly at work at the bottom of the shaft. A prospector working near the King mine had happened by earlier in the day and shouted a greeting down the shaft. When he received no answer he presumed that the miners had been caught in a cave-in.

GRID CAPTAINS

Captain Bruder

Captain Henry (Hank) Bruder, once more returned to active duty with Northwestern university, is the unluckiest player the Purple has ever had. Injuries and illness have kept Bruder, a remarkably fine player, out of a great many games this year and last. Bruder is a back.

Scientists are so unsatisfactory. They say human intelligence is 500,000 years old, but don't explain whether it is in its infancy or its dotage.

Colorado Beet Crop Harvested

(International News Service)
DENVER, Col., Oct. 30.—Harvesting of Colorado's $22,000,000 sugar beet crop is well under way today with prosperity assured in various beet-producing districts of the state. The twenty-one sugar beet factories operated by the Great Western Sugar Company, in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Nebraska have started their fall campaign, which will last until late in December or early in January. Up to Oct. 8, farmers were limited in the amount of beets they could deliver to the factories. Since that date unrestricted harvest has been in order and beets are being piled up at receiving stations until they can be delivered to the various factories. Indications are that this year's yield will be in excess of an average of 15 tons per acre. The sugar content is expected to be normal.

THE DECISION

The decision: The court held with the lot owner.

The judges reasoned thus: If a man binds himself to do an act which is in itself possible he must perform it. No unforeseen difficulty can excuse him from doing what has agreed to do. He should provide in the contract for such contingencies. But he must live up to his contract or reimburse the owner.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Prices Fluctuate In Stock Market Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—All sections of the stock market were carried down to a lower level of prices this morning, in a moderate selling wave which appeared to be the continuation of Wednesday's final reaction. Losses were most severe in a few of the high-priced specialties, like Coca Cola which dropped off more than 10 points to 159 1/2, but the Rank and File of Industrial and Utility stocks dipped to the low price ranges of the week.

Disappointment over the tardiness of the business recovery and a further reaction in commodity prices were cited as the main reasons for a fresh decline in prices. The bears without doubt had a hand in the transactions, as was evident from the "pounding" of the leading shares. United States Steel at 145 1/2 was down nearly 5 points from yesterday's best price and 2 1/2 from the previous close. American Can was off 1 1/2 and Westinghouse down 1 1/4. Gold dust lost 3 points and Allied Chemical 5 1/2. Consolidated Gas led the reaction in the Utilities, and sold down nearly 2 points at 94 1/2.

General conditions in the stock market were unchanged, and the volume of trading was comparatively small. The Coppers held steadily, and insignificant losses were sustained by the motors and the oils. Bethlehem Steel was well bought around 71 in anticipation of the maintenance of the $6 dividend, even though third quarterly earnings are expected to be considerably below dividend requirements.

United Aircraft's new decline to the year's lowest price at 31 1/2 accompanied reports of a probable revision downward of the rates for carrying air mail. The stock was a favorite in last year's bull market, and sold at 109 1/2. Gillette was again under pressure and dipped 2 1/2 to the low price of the year at 33 1/2. Trading slowed down in the second hour, not only in the stock market, but also in the commodity markets. Cotton lost about 75 cents a bale and Wheat sold fractionally lower. Call money was in good supply at 2 per cent.

Pennsy Calls 600 Car Workers Back

Huge Car Construction Order To Employ Host Men; No Change Here

Nearly 600 Pennsylvania railroad workers, half of whom are now on furlough will begin work within two weeks on the construction of new steel cars costing approximately $5,000,000. Superintendent H. T. Frushour learned today from the Philadelphia general office.

While none of the proposed construction will affect directly the company's car repair shops here Mr. Frushour said that all of the work will be done in the company's own shops.

Need 1,500 Cars

The announcement, made by President W. W. Atterbury, follows: The $5,000,000 order involves the immediate construction of 1,500 65 1/2-foot steel cars of the gondola type. Their carrying capacity will be 74 tons each and they are especially designed for transporting structural steel pipe and open shipments of automobiles.

Construction of the 1,500 cars will require 93,000,000 pounds of steel and steel products. Five hundred of the new steel cars will be constructed at the Pennsylvania's steel shops at Enola, near Harrisburg; 500 at the Pittsfield steel shops in the Program And Splendid Response To Building Fund Featured Wednesday Meeting

The annual Building Fund program of the Croton Avenue Methodist Episcopal church was held Wednesday evening in the church with a goodly number of the congregation in attendance. Mrs. E. J. Switzer was in charge of the program, which proved highly entertaining. A number of selections were given by the orchestra, under the direction of Earle Williams. Rev. C. S. Joshua gave a splendid reading and a little skit. "Anybody's Family" on Sunday Morning" provoked a lot of laughter as the parts were skillfully taken by Charles Lees, Ruth Joshua, Betty Joshua, Marian Shaffer and Jean DeGarmo. Mrs. Anna Corban delighted the audience with a number of vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Doerr.

The program then concluded and the meeting was turned over to the pastor of the church, Rev. Clifford Joshua, who made a strong appeal for the building fund of the church. His appeal was responded to very liberally the amount of $1050 being raised in cash and pledges.

Parish Dinner Held At Trinity

Bishop Ward And Archdeacon Foreman Make Very Interesting Addresses

Annual parish dinner of Trinity Episcopal church, held Wednesday evening in the guildroom of the church, was one of the most successful of such events ever held by the local parish, considerably more than two hundred persons participating in the same and enjoying the addresses of those on the program for the evening.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey was toastmaster of the occasion and added much to the success of the occasion by the able manner in which he carried out the duties of master of ceremonies.

Following the dinner, Lewis J. Lewis, president of the Men's Bible Club, under the auspices of which organization the event was held, announced the program of the club for the coming months and then introduced Attorney Dickey as toastmaster.

The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the Diocese of Erie then spoke most interestingly on his "Impressions of the Lambeth Conference held in England recently and which was attended by 308 bishops of the Anglican Communion, including himself. The remarks of the bishop were very interesting and left a deep impression on the minds of all those who were so fortunate as to hear him.

The address of the bishop was followed by that of the Venerable Harrison W. Foreman, the new archdeacon of the diocese, which proved equally interesting because of the fact that the archdeacon had an interesting story to tell of the work of the church in Rural Districts and the work to be done in the Diocese of Erie.

Robert M. Garland, chairman of the finance committee of Trinity Parish, followed with a very interesting detailed statement of the needs of the diocese and parish and an explanation of the funds to be asked of the membership of the parish for the coming year for use in both the parish and the diocese. He also told of the needs along the line of pledge solicitors and his remarks were timely and fully appreciated by all those present.

Rev. P. C. Pearson rector of the parish, then spoke in appreciation of the affair and those who had made the affair the success that it proved to be. He also spoke at some length on the needs and problems of the parish and urged the assistance of every member to help put over the budget for the coming year.

During the evening the singing of favorite hymns was one of the pleasing diversions with Dudley M. Arnold, leading the singing and Mrs. D. C. Lindley, presiding at the piano.

The dinner which proved very enjoyable, was served by a Volunteer group of women of the church. In the dining room were Mrs. W. A. McNally, Miss Helen Grotefend, Miss Lillian McNally, Miss Helen Lytle and Miss Martha Allen. In the kitchen the following ladies were in charge: Mrs. William Shibley, Mrs. James Hope, Miss Ellen Whaley, Mrs. Lester Joyce, Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. S. M. Rice, Mrs. Georgia Braley and Miss Elizabeth Hope.

Dr. Garry C. Myers To Address Parents

Noted Physicologist And Teacher In Cleveland College Will Discuss Parent Problem

The Highland and Arthur McGill Parents-Teachers Associations, not being selfish with the treat in store for them Thursday evening, November 6 at 8 o'clock, have invited all associations of the county, as well as all parents, to be their guests that evening in the George Washington Junior High School, when Dr. Garry C. Myers, Ph. D. of Cleveland will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Myers does not come here as a stranger, and through his articles which appear daily in the columns of The News, the parents of the city have become fairly well acquainted with him and the opportunity to hear him will be one they will take advantage of.

Dr. Myers handles the parent problem from a physiological standpoint and his applied science is practical, as he himself is a parent having three children, and the same questions that confront any parent, are brought up in his household the same as elsewhere, and it is from his own family a great many of his observations come.

Dr. Myers is head of the division of parental education in the Western University in Cleveland, and, as one of the writers has said of him—"He is rather short, a little fat, sandy haired, comfortably homely and good natured looking—really, he's very attractive" and with this description in mind one looks forward to hearing and seeing this man who has so to heart the troubles that face all parents.

There will be no admission charged to hear Dr. Myers; it is in the educational interest that he is being brought here by the heads of the Parents-Teachers Association of the Highland and the Arthur McGill schools.

Ask Practicability Of Light Blimps

LONDON, Oct. 30.—While the nation has been plunged into mourning for the R-101's gallant death, now that the first stunning effects of the news is beginning to pass off, one of the questions taking form in the minds of the public is: "Are lighter than air craft practicable?"

The London morning papers all unite in paying tribute to the skill and heroism of the gallant pioneer crew who met death in the tragic experimental flight. Simultaneously the gravest doubts are voiced whether airships generally are shown by this disaster to be too vulnerable.

Note to South America: If you must fight, stay in the open where you can shake the coolies loose and run.

ROAMING

With Richards
Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

If you have a yen for Hallowe'en-ing, you can satisfy it tonight and tomorrow night. The Southside celebration takes place tonight, and the downtown parade Friday night. Take 'em both in and get a load of fun out of it.

From the number of prizes offered tonight by the South Siders, most any good outfit can expect to win something. They have shirts and ties, and hams and bacon, potatoes and electrical tools, a hundred prizes in all, and every one of them to be given away tonight. By seven thirty the South Side will resemble Taggart Stadium on a big night, and with this weather prevailing, the affair is going to be a wow.

Friday night the downtown celebration will be held before the football game at Taggart Stadium. This means a parade shortly after supper, but your average Mummer would sooner parade than eat. With the parade followed by the trek to the football game, traffic is going to be lovely. The solution of it is to park your car down town and walk up to the stadium.

Howard B. Richards, the superintendent of the water company is back home after a trip through the east and says that during the trip he witnessed a traffic scene that stands out as the most congested thing he ever saw.

He was visiting his son who is superintendent of the water company in Darien, Conn. The Boston Post road runs through Darien and on Saturday with the big football game on tap in the east it seemed as though every automobile in the east was between New York and Boston. Four and five abreast they roared through Darien, and in five minutes Mr. Richards counted 356 automobiles.

Everything seems to be under control again. Squire C. L. Zedaker, the King of New Bedford, has returned to Lawrence County after a trip through Michigan and says that he found that civilization had extended clear to the Great Lakes.

Every year seems to see louder coats for men. The days of the sombre dark blues and blacks, and occasional grays seems to be gone forever and in their places have come trick shades that give a man class. One of the latest examples of what color will do to a man's coat is seen in Bill Hill's latest benny. It looks like a plate of maple ice cream plentifully sprinkled with crushed nuts and if you think it isn't a picture, you wouldn't believe.

Sort of a snowflake design, and if you see Bill walking down street minus a coat on a day or so, you'll know that it was stolen by some envious vulgarian.

You may not know it, but the Thiel football team this year is captained by a former New Castle High star, Frank Leonard. Remember Leonard's work on the line four or five years ago, for the Red and Black. He's doing the same thing for Thiel now, and when he plays here Saturday against W. & J., give him a hand.

Water Co. Head Is Back From Meeting Of Waterworks Men

H. B. Richards Returns With Wife And Son, After Trip Through New England

H. B. Richards, superintendent of the City of New Castle Water company, and Mrs. Richards, returned Wednesday from a trip to Atlantic City and New England, bringing with them a son, Howard, Jr., for a visit to this city.

The Water Company superintendent attended the 35th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Waterworks Association, which met for a three-day session in Atlantic City on October 22. Richards opened the second day of the meeting with an address, "Public Relations."

The Richards next visited Darien, Conn., where their son, Howard, is superintendent of the Monroton Water company. They continued to Boston, to visit another son, Frank, a student at Massachusetts Tech.

"It's all in the breaks of the game," said the football player as he limped off the field.—The Altoona Mirror.

Railroad Shopmen Hold Get Together Wednesday Evening

Interesting Program And Feed
Feature Affair At Trades
Assembly Hall

More than two hundred shop employees of the Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroads in this district were present last night at the get together event held in the Trades and Labor Assembly hall under the auspices of the Baltimore and Ohio Shop Craft workmen with the workmen of the Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie shops as guests.

It was a delightful affair with a program of addresses and other numbers, that added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by a committee in charge and thoroughly enjoyed by all those in attendance.

John Murdoch was master of ceremonies and presided during the presentation of the evenings program. The program included the following—Selections by an orchestra, an address by S. L. Watts, vice-president of the Carve's International Union, Violin and Guitar Duet selections by J. D. Brown and Frank Dottle, an address by Eric Peterson, organizer of the Machinists Union, solo—Anthony Ezzo, an address by D. A. Niland, general chairman of the machinists in District No. 29, Cartoon Work by Camillo Morganti, and concluding selection by the orchestra.

Ultra Violet Ray Detects Bad Liquor

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 30.—A chemical preparation which can be used with ultra violet rays to detect either bad checks or bad liquor has been developed here by the Block Laboratories, according to a recent announcement by Julian Block, president.
The preparation is aesculin, a compound obtained from the ordinary horse chestnut. Used as a check detector, it is mixed with an ink with which the surface of the checks is overprinted. The check is then placed over a quartz plate through which the ultra violet light is projected. Any part of the check which has been erased or treated chemically will be revealed, Block claims.
In a similar fashion, Block says, the aesculin might be mixed with wood alcohol used to denature industrial spirits. Such alcohol would show up immediately under ultra violet light.
